CITY-WIDE DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Charity Knows No Sects or Distinction, Says Chest Speakers

A CITY-WIDE drive for $30,000 to fill the coffers of Santa Ana's first community chest got under way last night at a dinner meeting at the First Christian church, attended by more than 200 representative business men and a number of prominent club women.

In the absence of William H. Spurgeon, president of the Santa Ana community chest, confined to his home with a slight illness, Terry E. Stephenson, vice president of the organization, presided over the meeting.

Outlines Aims, Purposes
The aims and purposes of the community chest were outlined by Roland E. Dye, a director of the organization and campaign manager.

"The next 36 hours will decide whether the chest plan is a success or whether it is doomed to failure," he said. He declared that for some time back there has been a demand for the community chest plan, particularly so among the business men. The fact that 200 business men responded to the call for workers is a fair indication of the wish of the community, he added.

He took pains to point out that the strictest economy has been observed in managing the campaign. Instead of employing a campaign manager at an expense varying from $1200 to $1500, the board of directors decided that the work could be done by local men, thus saving this money for actual relief work. Another instance of the economy insisted upon by the directors of the chest was the ruling made last night whereby each worker had to pay for their own meals in addition to giving their services.

Leslie Henry, past district governor of Kiwanis, and a prominent Los Angeles banker, was the main speaker of the evening. Being at his best he lived up to his reputation as one of the Southland's foremost orators, and for more than an hour he held the audience spellbound with his eloquence, and his charm of simple narrative and description. He did not indulge in funny anecdotes, no witty references, no attempts at repartee, his speech from start to end was an earnest appeal to support the community chest.

No Distinctions Made
"There is no such thing as Catholic charity, there is no such thing as Protestant charity—true charity is by what there is best in the human breast takes no cognizance of creed or race," he declared in voicing his disapproval of attempts to discriminate against certain social service activities because of their affiliations.

He brought into the minds of his hearers the knowledge that the community chest had accomplished in other communities, including his own—Pasadena. In addition to increasing the number of contributors from 800 to 1800, in Pasadena the community chest plan had been instrumental in eliminating waste and duplication of effort. In this connection he told the audience how the chest officials in the Crown City on taking charge of the social service activities discovered that not less than 26 families had been living a comparatively life of ease on contributions from different social service agencies without doing a stroke of work.

The speaker also pointed out that the effective application of the community chest principles does not only prevent waste and duplication of effort, but compels the participating agencies to exercise proper care in administering their affairs.

WOMEN TAKE KEEN INTEREST IN CAMPAIGN
An outstanding feature of the Community Chest drive which got under way this morning is the interest shown by women in the undertaking. Campaign Manager Roland E. Dye declared this morning. "This response on the part of the womanhood is most gratifying, and augurs well for the success of the venture," he added.

Coupled with this remark he complimented team No. 8, known as the "Ladies Own", composed entirely of prominent club women captained by Mrs. William Smart. The personnel of this team in-

Milk Poured Away In Bay City War

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 18.—No cessation of hostilities in the war between producers and distributors of milk in the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley appeared imminent today despite efforts of non-combatants and consumers to compose the situation.

The state house wives league, city and county officials and physicians apparently have appealed in vain and threats made yesterday to take the dispute to the governor for settlement may be made good today.

Violence continued all last night, with producers successfully "blacking" several truckloads of milk and pouring it into convenient ditches after exchanges of shots with armed independent truck drivers. Scores of deputies under Sheriff Frank Burnett are patrolling the highways to preserve order and at least thirty men accused of interfering with milk deliveries were arrested during the night.

TEN DIE AS STORM RESULT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—New York shivered to work again today on the coldest November 18 ever recorded by the weather bureau.

Temperature at 8 a. m. was 19 above zero, a record. The coldest previous weather on this date was 23, in 1891.

Ten persons were dead in the metropolitan area as a result of the icy wave which descended suddenly on the city Sunday.

Three of the dead were women. The other nine perished from exposure.

The intense cold was accompanied by a gale which at times reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour.

The steamer Adriatic reached port after fighting the storm for hours and reported the loss of a seaman who had been blown overboard.

Seven other persons who put out in a fishing schooner have failed to return and are believed to have been drowned.

FACTION DEMANDS NEW LABOR PARTY

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 18.—Opposition to organized labor's non-partisan policy developed in the convention of the American Federation of Labor here today when demands for an exclusive labor party were presented by the Brotherhood of Operative Pottery and the International Molders union.

The present non-partisan policy of the organization is ineffective, and the formation of a new party based upon the trades union movement is the only way that labor can protect its political interests, the resolution said.

Any move toward formation of a labor party will meet with bitter opposition from President Samuel Gompers and his executive council, it is indicated, and there is little possibility of abandonment of the non-partisan alignment.

William Johnston, president of the Machinists' union and chairman of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign, has indicated that he will not support the third party move, declaring the federation should confine its activities to "economic matters."

Legion Wishes Pershing Back

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 18.—The American Legion National Legislative committee will sponsor a bill in congress to restore John J. Pershing to active service in the army, John T. Taylor, chairman of the committee, announced here today.

Taylor said that the Legion feels that Pershing's knowledge and experience should be utilized by the army.

GOLD FISH UNDISTURBED.
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 18.—So perfectly did yeggs blow open the safe at the Westmoreland Drug company store, Milwaukee and Bybee avenues, early this morning, that a gold fish swimming in a bowl on the safe was undisturbed. The door was blown open and about $150 was obtained.

AMNESTY IS GRANTED TO EX-PREMIER

Restoration of Rights Are Given Caillaux, Exile Can Now Return

PARIS, Nov. 18.—With amazing absence of political passion, the French senate by raised hands today voted Article II of Amnesty bill which carries amnesty and restoration of civil rights for ex-Premier Joseph Caillaux.

Only half the senators, 343 present and the galleries were empty save for a handful of newspapermen as the final chapter of the famous case was written. Fully two-thirds of those present today were members of the senate which condemned Caillaux to exile for his dealings with the enemy.

The French Chamber previously had voted amnesty to the exiled statesman and so today's action was a foregone conclusion and many senators voted by proxy.

After final approval by President Doumergue, Caillaux will be permitted to return to Paris and other large cities and fortress towns from which he is at present exiled.

Radicals already are talking of finding a place in the cabinet for Caillaux, who is recognized beyond question as the most brilliant finance minister in the history of the French republic.

To the surprise of some of his political friends, ex-Premier Poincare intervened today in favor of amnesty for ex-Minister Malvy as well, and this was granted by a vote of 195 to 62. Malvy's exile already had been ended, but the senate's action made the amnesty formal and complete.

Many of Malvy's political opponents joined Poincare in declaring they know of no evidence of his guilt. Like Caillaux, he was implicated in charges of dealing with the enemy during the world war.

NAB BOOTLEG 'KING' IN SEATTLE RAID

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—Roy Olmsted, declared by prohibition authorities to be "the king of northwest bootleggers," his wife and 16 other persons were arrested here early this morning at Olmsted's palatial home in the exclusive Mount Baker Park district by United States agents.

Olmsted and the others are held on charges of violating the national prohibition act.

Roy Lyle, state prohibition agent, declares he "has enough evidence to break up Olmsted's alleged rum running activities for all time."

Nab 3 Members of Bandit Gang

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 18.—Three members of the bandit gang believed responsible for the murder of a Japanese woman near Lodi a week ago and numerous robberies in the San Joaquin valley, have been arrested here and charged with first degree murder.

The men held are James Gregg, Albert Woodworth and Frank Purio. The latter is near death from wounds received in a gun battle with Constable George Boyle of Kingsburg. John Canton, fourth member of the gang, is still at large.

Mrs. Harding Is Slightly Better

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding has survived another serious heart attack and now seems to be a little stronger, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer's 9 a. m. bulletin said today.

"Mrs. Harding's condition remained unchanged during the night," Dr. Sawyer said.

"Early today her pulse became very weak and her respirations shallow. She is now rallying from this and seems to be a little stronger."

Clear Students at 'Frat' Party

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 18.—Complete exoneration has been accorded the University of California chapter of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity of charges of disorderliness at a formal dancing party in the fraternity house here last Friday night.

The exoneration followed three days' investigation, participated in by police and university authorities, and was concurred in by President W. W. Campbell.

TWO PERISH WHEN HOTEL IS BURNED

Unidentified Woman and Man From New York Die At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18.—The charred body of a woman, naked save for a pair of stockings, was taken from the still smoldering ruins of the Hotel Bothwell here today, bringing the death list in the $750,000 fire which destroyed two hotels and part of the steel pier last night to two.

The dead woman was not identified immediately.

Twelve persons, including Mrs. Mary Flick, South Fork, Pa., were burned, suffocated or otherwise injured in the blaze and were treated in hospitals today.

In the biting cold of early morning the city's entire fire fighting force, augmented by volunteer bucket brigades on the roofs, had saved the situation, but only after $750,000 damage had been caused and six persons overcome or injured.

The dead: James Bennett, 80, New York City.

An unidentified woman. Seriously wounded: Mrs. Mary Flick, South Fork, Pa.

Five hundred guests at the two hotels, many in scanty attire, fled to safety through smoke filled corridors. So rapidly did the flames, which were discovered in the Bothwell shortly after 9 p. m., gain headway that by the time firemen arrived some of the guests were trapped on upper stories and had to be taken down aerial ladders.

Many thrilling rescues were effected in freezing temperatures, guests of the burning hotels who had been overcome by smoke being carried out by the firemen.

The hotels destroyed were the Bothwell and the Senator, on Virginia avenue adjoining the board walk. The loss was $600,000, according to R. J. Collins, who operates them.

FIREMEN WORK IN BITTER COLD.
LINDEN, N. J., Nov. 18.—Firemen today were working in bitter cold clearing away debris of the third great waterfront fire which has swept the New York harbor district in a week, causing property damage estimated at more than $4,000,000.

One man was missing, eight in hospitals and others suffering from minor injuries as a result of the latest blaze which destroyed the Sinclair oil tanker William Boyce Thompson, a big barge and 87,000 gallons of gasoline, with a loss of more than $700,000.

Nab Over 500 In L. A. Speed Drive

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Local motorists were today touching the throttle lightly as police continued their drive on speeders in all parts of the city.

Over 500 arrests were made yesterday in the greatest haul of speeders on record.

One officer made 53 arrests during the day. Twenty-five motorcycle police are being used in the campaign.

Prosperity Talks By Leading Santa Anans

"True prosperity in any community is denoted by the number of people who own their own homes," stated J. A. Cranston, superintendent of Santa Ana schools early today. "And there are many, many people here who own their own homes."

"I have often wondered just why people buy their homes in Santa Ana, but the answer is easy. Here we have the climate, the location, just far enough from the sea and the mountains and the city, a truly wonderful place in which to live."

Teachers come to me all the time from places in the east and say 'If I could get work here, I would love to live here, and to move my family here.' I have known a great many who have come to California, visited in all of the cities throughout the Southland and in Northern California, only to come to Santa Ana and say, 'This is the best place of all, I want to make my home in Santa Ana.'"

And the most remarkable part of it all is that all of them want to buy a home and live here. They are not satisfied with renting, they want to be anchored to something and they will be anchored if they own their own home. I have watched Santa Ana's growth for the past 18 years and more particularly during the past four years. It has been substantial and there is nothing that can stop her now," he said.

Foments Move To Dethrone King of Spain

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Vicente Blasco Ibanez, noted author, today launched his campaign to foment a revolution in Spain and drive King Alfonso from the throne.

Ibanez issued a pamphlet entitled "Alfonso XIII is unmasked, military terror in Spain." In it the author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" scathingly attacked his sovereign, charged the director at present in control in Spain is a menace to the world and called for a plebiscite to determine whether Spain should continue a monarchy or become a republic.

LOS ANGELES KLAN BATTLE BEFORE JUDGE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Contest between the Ku Klux Klan in this district and the opposition order composed of "backsliding" Klansmen was to come up in Superior Judge Shaw's court here today.

Affidavits by G. W. Price, Imperial representative of the Klan, and others associated with him were to be produced in answer to a series of charges of felonies and misdemeanors introduced in an injunction proceeding brought by James F. DeBore, of Ocean Park, and others, asking that Price and the Klan be enjoined from doing further business in California. The complaints were actuated by malicious persons who were expelled from the original Klan, Price charged in reply.

The charges hold that the Klan organization has terrorized citizens and ordered them from the state, framed tar and feather parties and otherwise conducted itself illegally.

POINCARÉ DENIES HE PROVOKED WAR

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Former Premier Poincaré has issued a warm rebuttal to the press of the published statement of Georges Louis, ambassador to Russia, asserting that Poincaré was partially responsible for precipitating the World war. Poincaré's statement, cited in the letters of Jules Cambon, Stephen Pichon and Ambassador Daeschner, denying that they issued statements in Russia blaming Poincaré for not preventing the war.

DECLARES PREMIER WAS RUSSIAN TOOL
PARIS, Nov. 18.—Ex-Premier Poincaré was the tool of Russia and the world war might have been avoided, according to belief expressed in extracts from notes on the late Georges Louis, French ambassador to Russia in 1913, published today by the radical newspaper L'Ouvrier.

Emotion has been aroused by the publication and France may be treated to another stirring post war scandal. Poincaré announced he will publish letters of Pinchon and Jules Cambon, proving L'Ouvrier's charges untrue.

Questioned at police headquarters, the pastor stuck to his original story, insisting that he did not leave the house until 1:30 p. m. Until that time he was alone with his wife, he said.

Officials then called E. E. Brideweher, a student at Capital University, who said he had called at the parsonage Monday morning with some Sunday school papers which he wanted to submit to Rev. Sheatsley.

"It was about the middle of the morning when I went to Sheatsley's house," Brideweher said. "I knocked at the front door and nobody answered."

"I left then but as I was going down the steps I thought I heard somebody moving about in the basement."

"It is possible that I was in the basement when the boy called Mr. King," the pastor said while being questioned. "Mrs. Sheatsley might have been in the rear of the house at the time."

Prosecutor King then turned to Clarence Sheatsley, the pastor's 16-year old son.

"I came home from school at 3:30," the boy said. "I called for mother but she wasn't there, so I went down and looked at the furnace just to see if there was a good fire."

"Did you notice any peculiar odor in the house?"

"Yes, I smelled something burning. I thought it was rabbit skins. I had thrown some in the trash and I thought maybe mother had put them in the fire."

"What did you see when you looked in the furnace?" King asked.

"Well, I thought it looked kind of funny, but I thought I'd let somebody else find it out."

Rev. Sheatsley was not nervous during the questioning save when the prosecutor appeared to be asking leading questions. At these times he moved uneasily in his chair.

Asked whether he and his wife had been happy together, he replied: "Yes, yes, of course, of course."

The prosecutor called Alice, the pastor's 10-year old daughter, and asked her to tell about the finding

REMAINS OF WIFE FOUND IN FURNACE

Columbus Pastor Is Being Quizzed; Case of Murder, Says Prosecutor

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—Rev. C. V. Sheatsley and his four children were summoned to police headquarters today for questioning in connection with the death of the pastor's wife, whose charred remains were found in the furnace at the parsonage.

The order was issued by Prosecutor John R. King, who declared the case is clearly one of murder.

Rev. Sheatsley, a Lutheran pastor and professor in Capital University, a Lutheran college, maintains his wife committed suicide.

The death of Mrs. Sheatsley shocked the exclusive residential district of Bexley, where her husband is pastor of its leading church.

Coroner Murphy wanted to issue a verdict of suicide but the prosecutor insisted that the whole thing be made the subject of a thorough investigation.

At the police station Rev. Sheatsley told the same story he had told the coroner. He arrived home last night after calling on members of his flock and found his older son, Milton, a student at Capital University, where Rev. Sheatsley has a Bible class, investigating the odor of burning flesh.

The boy said he had looked in the furnace several times before his father came home but that he thought the odor came from some rabbit skins which had burned.

It was the pastor who discovered his wife's charred remains and reported to police.

Only a few bones and pieces of jewelry remained.

No one was at the parsonage during the afternoon. The children were at school.

The parsonage bore no evidence of a struggle, authorities said.

Mrs. Sheatsley was 50 years old. Her husband is the same age. They came to Columbus eight years ago from Pittsburgh.

The pastor and his four children, Milton, 20; Clarence, 16; Elizabeth, 14, and Alice, 10, were haggard when they appeared at police headquarters.

The pastor said Mrs. Sheatsley was a small woman and could have crawled into the furnace easily. The furnace door, he said, was closed when he made his first investigation of the source of the burning flesh odor.

"My wife was a nervous sort," the pastor said. "She had never spoken of suicide but apparently there were many things on her mind she did not tell me."

Sticks to Story
Questioned at police headquarters, the pastor stuck to his original story, insisting that he did not leave the house until 1:30 p. m. Until that time he was alone with his wife, he said.

Officials then called E. E. Brideweher, a student at Capital University, who said he had called at the parsonage Monday morning with some Sunday school papers which he wanted to submit to Rev. Sheatsley.

Sheriff Telegraphs Governor He Is Powerless to Cope With Situation

Reading of Injunction Has Little Effect on Little Knot of Settlers

ONE PINE, Calif., Nov. 18.—Through another chill night and into the third day a small band of grimly determined men stood guard beside the opened waste gates of the Los Angeles aqueduct while the stream, diverted from its artificial course, flowed back toward the Owens river from whence it originally came.

Unrelenting in their demand for a "settlement" from the city 200 miles to the south in the dispute over the rights to the waters of the river, the five score men and more who opened the flood gates of the aqueduct Sunday morning appear even more firm in their purpose as their hours advance. This despite the fact that a second call for state troops was last night sent by Sheriff Charles Collins to Governor Friend W. Richardson, in Sacramento.

He and his deputies are "utterly powerless" to cope with the situation, Sheriff Collins telegraphed the governor, adding that the matter is "entirely out of my hands" and asking for state militia "in desperation."

The situation at the flood gates today revealed little of the animosity and feeling which prompted the ranchers' deed. The hundred or more weather beaten ranchers, stooped with years of labor on none too productive soil, stand about in small groups, talking, thinking, waiting.

A few feet away the musical rush of water is heard as the flood pours through the spillway and down the offshoot course toward the river. In the main channel of the aqueduct only a trickle is evident, a tiny rivulet of the precious "white gold" over which a battle as romantic as any in the days of the old west, although a bloodless one, is being waged.

The women of Lone Pine, Bishop, Independence, the county seat, and from the ranches up and down the sparsely settled valley, have planned a barbecue for their men today. Automobile filled with food supplies, blankets and other provisions are arriving continuously.

From the scene of the siege, the road stretching out down the wide, rocky valley can be seen for miles, the terrain in the section is uncultivated land, clustered with stones and clumps of greasewood and mesquite—almost a semidesert, made so, the ranchers declare, by their lack of water.

Back of the aqueduct stand the Sierras, snow covering the mountain crests. Off toward the other side, five miles distant across the valley, are the barren, dry hills, fringed by dark canyons.

Camp fires dot the semi-military scene, for there is a chill in the air, lasting hours after the sun breaks over the eastern mountains. Around the fires sit the men, discussing their present situation and the possible outcome.

Scott At Injunction
There is a grim, ironical laugh when mention is made of the injunction, with its threat of a damage suit, which Sheriff Collins read to them without effect.

"How can they get any damages out of us? We are broke already," is the prevailing sentiment.

The crowd is a motley one, business men, physicians, even a Baptist minister, joining with the ranchers in their stand. "Most of my flock are here and I belong with them," the minister said.

Efforts to draw any of the band into conversation meet with little success. Outsiders are not welcomed. Newspaper men, especially from Los Angeles, are chilly received by most.

"30" BULLETINS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, was arrested here today following a boxing contest last night at the Culver City stadium in which it is charged a "frame up" caused Fulton to lay down to Tony Puente, Mexican flash, within 30 seconds after the fight started.

"This episode at the aqueduct is the culmination of the sentiment of residents of the valley, which I have observed for many months past," Robert Richard, Bishop attorney of the firm of Richard and Swallow, and also a ranch owner, told the United Press.

"The question is not whether those active are right or wrong or whether they should have adopted the means taken by them. The fact remains that they and their fathers and their grandfathers before them have enjoyed the waters and lands in this valley and they honestly believe the city is attempting to take from them what is theirs by industry and inheritance without just compensation. When such a condition influences the human mind, surprise should not be expressed at the outcome."

"Real estate and property values in Owens valley have been lowered forty to fifty per cent as a result of the tactics of the agents of the city of Los Angeles," said D. E. Lutz, grocer. "The board of public service commissioners should abandon its dilatory policy and make a definite settlement with the ranchers."

Tension grows as the hours advance. There are few smiles and little laughter about the camp. The men, and their women, are waiting. They declare they will wait until state troops arrive, no matter how long that may be.

GRAND JURY DEMAND TO BE MADE TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—The demand of Los Angeles that the Inyo county grand jury investigate and punish by prison sentences those responsible for cutting off the city's water supply in the Owens valley was to be laid before District Attorney Jess Hession of Inyo county today.

This demand was made by District Attorney Asa Keyes, of Los Angeles county, backed up by city officials and members of the public service commission.

Meanwhile, the local situation remains unchanged. The defy of the invading ranchers that a "settlement" is necessary before they will quit the flood gates which they have opened has met no favorable response.

"I am sure that officers charged with responsibility for the enforcement of law will terminate the situation," said Mayor George E. Cryer in a statement containing a veiled request for state troops to take charge of the situation.

"So far as the city of Los Angeles is concerned, its water supply is not in jeopardy at the present time. We have an ample amount of water in our reservoirs to supply the needs of the city for some weeks to come.

"In the meantime, I feel confident the peace officers of Inyo county, supplemented if necessary by the forces of the state of California, will take care of the men who are now violating the law in Inyo county."

AQUEDUCT WASTE GATES. Alabama Hills, Inyo County, Cal., Nov. 18.—When the sun rose this morning over the Alabama hills it shown in all its desert glory on the camp of the Owens valley ranchers and business men carrying on a silent battle in the cause they consider just.

Outnumbered in point of population by many thousands to one, the band is standing by the waste gates of the Los Angeles aqueduct, which were opened Sunday, permitting the waters to flow back into the river. The move is a protest, the ranchers claim, against the approaching ruin of home and farm which must come unless sufficient water to irrigate the land is left to them.

The scene was a peaceful one, the spirals of smoke rising from the smoldering signal fires giving little evidence that, according to the ranchers' viewpoint, the drying embers signalized the end of the beautiful valley they visualized.

Sheriff Charles Collins of Inyo county came down the highway and visited with the band again today, urging them to obey the mandate of the injunction order issued by Judge Deby at Independence yesterday.

All copies of the injunction have been served, the sheriff said, and there were not enough to go around among the many "John Does" who faced him.

"Get some more copies, sheriff, we want 'em for souvenirs," some one shouted.

There are nearly as many women as men to be served, the sheriff said, adding that he would need nearly 200 more copies of the injunction to complete distribution.

Wives and families of the entrenched farmers appeared in numbers during the morning and added to the temporary camp, where they proceeded to supply warm food for their relatives on guard.

Many of the band had been without sleep for two days and showed the effect of their constant watch. Reinforcements are constantly arriving from all parts of the valley. Stores in the small towns are closed and the one question on every tongue is whether this last supreme effort will gain the end desired.

There are no signs of disorder or anarchy. The farmers, many of whom are ex-service men, are totally unarmed at present. The entire movement thus far has been executed without the striking of a single blow.

Tonight the watchfires will again burn brightly. Strong searchlights which have been hastily installed by the fortified ranchers will play upon every automobile or suspicious person that ventures near.

RELEASE PASTOR AFTER GRILLING. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 18.—Insisting that he is as much baffled by the mystery of his wife's death as are the police, Rev. C. Sheatsley, pastor of the Lutheran church in the fashionable Bexley residential section, was dismissed temporarily today after a severe grilling by county prosecutor John R. King.

The pastor went immediately to the mortuary, where his wife's charred remains, which he discovered in the parsonage furnace, were being prepared for burial.

WHAT DOES SANTA ANA NEED?

The following suggestions have been made by members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce in answer to the question: "What do you consider the most important thing the Chamber of Commerce should undertake for the future development of Santa Ana and Orange county?" The names of the authors of these answers are on file in the Register office.

The chamber should work with all its power to obtain funds with which to provide an up-to-date hospital to offer to the people who are here whom we wish to have come to dwell among us; for the care of their families or for themselves whenever they may be in need of it.

I would not assist in putting over any enterprise until our greatest need is provided for. The people who may come here will not prefer the most wonderful building it is possible to build for a home for the Chamber of Commerce, when they come and need hospital care.

I would gladly inoculate the entire community with the microbe—if there is such a one—of determination to build a hospital of which we might all be proud.

Industrial development is the greatest and most important work. As an agricultural city we cannot expect to grow much larger and as an agricultural city there is not enough opportunity for industrial wages for our increasing and growing population. We must have increasing opportunities for our increasing young men and women and new population to engage in industrial wages.

No great industrial development can come to Santa Ana without harbor development so this is a great and important work.

Additional parks should be provided, one in the northwest, northeast, southeast and southwest part of the city.

In streets in residential sections, the parking should be wider and the paved section narrower, so as to provide for better growing of trees and lawns and shrubbery.

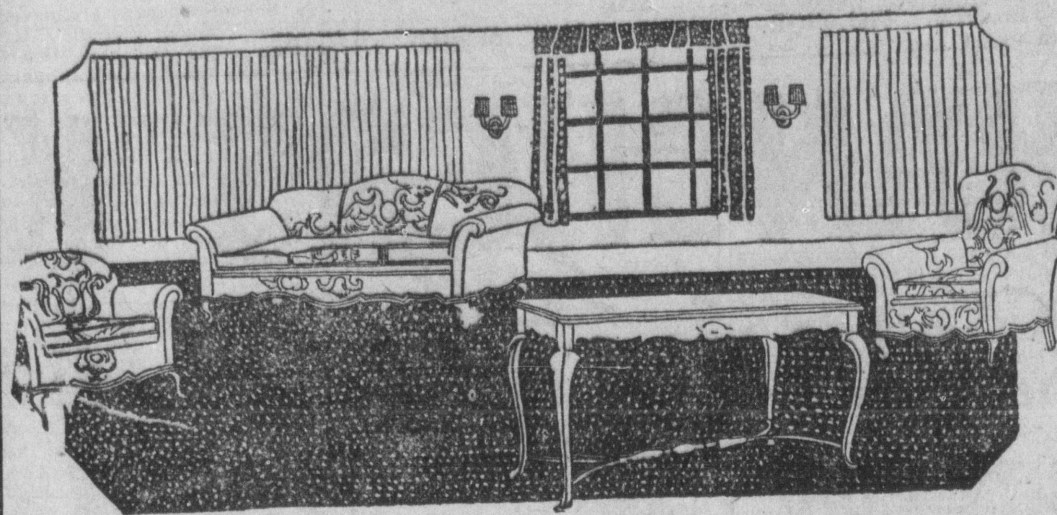

Pay rolls and more payrolls. It's the working man who makes business for the merchant, not the capitalist.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN

By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE WELL-ROBED MAN
Some "wise cracker," doubtless named Graham, has remarked that America is a country where nobody goes to bed the day he gets up. With business, golf and the automobile to engage out time before sundown and with "tuning in," dining out, dancing, bridge, and movies to absorb it by night, what leisure have we for enjoying that slippers ease dear to our grandfathers, as they read aloud from John Bunyan? It would seem that, since we have no time to wear house robes, none would be sold. Yet, more of them are in use than ever.

A couple of house robes, one light and the other heavy, are indispensable to the wardrobe of a gentleman. They are no end useful to wear for lounging, reading, breakfasting and the like. Do not confuse a house robe with a bath robe. The house robe is fashioned of wool or silk. The bathrobe is made of Turkish toweling or Terry cloth and is designed for quite a different purpose.

In choosing your house robe, you may take either the standard, full-length garment or the new-type three-quarter length. The three-quarter length is intended to be worn over one's pajamas. The three-quarter length is meant to be worn with one's trousers. For complete comfort and convenience own both, in addition to a lounging jacket of silk or wool. House clothes should receive the same care as street clothes. They should be brushed before putting away and draped upon a wooden or metal form, not hung upon a hook. There are so many different types of house robes this season, that the accompanying sketch can only give an inkling of what is smart and comfortable. Such a robe is cut of soft, warm flannel with deep shawl lapels and four pockets, two side and two breast. The edges, lapels, sleeves and pocket-tops are faced with a contrasting silk binding. The skirts are cut very full for unhindered ease and the cord girdle matches the facings. If no collar, shirt and scarf worn with a house robe, a muffler, looped once with ends brought straight down, may take their place and it serves the purpose just as well. The creature comfort and soothing sense of relaxation that a well-cut, well-fitting house robe bestows are well worth its moderate cost.

JUNIOR C. C. DINNER DANCE BIG SUCCESS

An appetizing Virginia baked ham dinner was served by the Ebell club women. During the meal an address of welcome was delivered by L. R. Crawford, president of the Junior Chamber. A. L. Olinger, secretary of the senior Chamber of Commerce, responded with a tribute to the young men and then commented on the possibilities of a greater Santa Ana to be obtained by co-operative boosting.

Entertained by members of the Orange and Santa Ana baseball teams of 1879 and 1880, who gave short talks concerning games of the long ago, when rivalry existed between the two towns in baseball, more than 150 members of the Men's Community Bible class gathered at the Walker theater Sunday. A. P. Walbridge, of Los Angeles, former pitcher on the team, was the principal speaker.

On the platform, five members of the old team were seated. All made short talks. They were: Ed Raines, San Diego; Frank Harris, Wiley Harris and Walter Moore, Duncan, a former member of the Orange team was also a big leaguer in his day, being with Chicago in the days of "Pop" Anson.

"HAMBONE"

Here is Donald Hopkins, star end man in Elks' Charity Minstrel to be given at Yost theater, November 24, 25, 26.

BIGGEST, BEST SHOW, PROMISE OF S. A. ELKS

With each new rehearsal, for the Elks Minstrel show to be given at the Yost theater on the nights of November 24, 25 and 26, new predictions are being made by Elks that the show this year will be the "biggest and best" ever staged by the lodge in Santa Ana.

Underlying the hilarious jokes and comic capers of the end-men at the annual performance, will be the sobering thought that the proceeds of the three performances will go to the less fortunate, the poor of Santa Ana.

"There is one novelty I don't believe has ever been used outside of a circus," stated Donald Hopkins, director and end man today. "We have the one and only Wild Siberian Man Eating Jassack, who performs not only with his heels but with his head. This Jassack is trained to a degree seldom reached by animals of this nature," he spelled today.

Particular care has been exercised in the choosing of costumes and stage settings, and the opening novelty chorus will include sixty male voices.

Seats for the show will go on sale at 9 a. m., November 20, at the Parson's drug company. No reservations will be made from the Elks' home or over the telephone, Hopkins said.

SAY HOUSE-HUNTERS STOLE DIAMOND PIN

The police today were seeking two asserted house-hunters who late yesterday used a clever ruse to steal a diamond bar pin, valued at $150, from the home of Mrs. A. R. House, 2325 North Main street.

According to Mrs. House, two young men arrived in a coupe at her residence and asked to be shown through the house, which was for sale. After inspecting the place, one of the strangers asked to see the garage while his companion seated himself in a comfortable chair to await their return.

After the visitors drove away, Mrs. House learned that her diamond pin had been taken from her bedroom dresser. One of the strangers was described as about 5 feet 6 inches tall, 19 years of age, stout, with dark hair and dark eyes. He was said to be handsome and well dressed. The other man as being 25 years old, 6 feet tall, slender, slightly bald with a light complexion. He wore a dark suit and soft blue shirt. He smoked cigarettes incessantly.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take Calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "drowsy" and "heavy." They "clear" the brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The "Dance of the Falling Leaves" has been banned from a theater here. Entirely too many leaves fell from the costumes of the girl dancers, authorities claimed. Santa Ana Community Chest Drive Is Opened

ORGANIZATION, PURPOSE OF COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN ARE OUTLINED IN CLEAR MANNER

Inquiries received at the campaign headquarters of the Santa Ana Community Chest indicate that quite a number of citizens in the city, many of them regular contributors to worthy undertakings, do not know that there is such an organization in their midst, or have but a hazy idea of its organization and purpose.

Here are the outstanding organizational features of the Santa Ana Community Chest, organized a short time ago at the instance of the local Chamber of Commerce. The chamber appointed a special committee to investigate and report upon the advisability of adopting the community chest plan in this city.

Administration.—The Santa Ana Community Chest council will be a corporate body, and will include the entire directorate of all participating agencies providing such directorate does not exceed 15 members. This body shall meet annually and choose members at large to the board of directors. It shall receive the reports of the officers and committees of the organization.

The board of directors will be composed of one representative of each participating agency and three members at large, members at large to be selected annually by the community chest council. The board of directors shall perform such duties as is customary.

Officers of the organization.—The president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. These officers, with the exception of any employed secretaries of Community Chest, to be chosen from and by the board of directors, and shall perform the duties customary to their office. Employed officers, if there be any, shall be advisers to, but not members of the board of directors. The president, with the counsel of the board of directors shall appoint the following committees with duties as enumerated, and in so far as is practicable the cabinet plan of using board members as

URGENT NEED FOR DONATIONS IS EMPHASIZED

The urgent need of liberal contributions to the Santa Ana community chest is outlined by Harry W. Lewis, director of the organization, and chairman of the budget committee, in a statement furnished the Register.

This committee is composed of three members of the chest, for the express purpose of scrutinizing the budgets of all participating agencies and making such recommendations to the board of directors concerning these budgets as seems advisable. The other members are W. B. Williams and A. N. Zerman.

In urging substantial support, Mr. Lewis points to the present crime wave among juveniles, necessitating more than ever before the services of well established social welfare agencies for young men and women. Mention is also made of much sickness and physical defects among certain classes of the city's population, requiring attention.

"From the point of view of cost to the community," the statement says, "facts are available which indicate that inattention to shortcomings among the growing generation, or uncared for destitution among the poor and unfortunate are the prime causes of still greater social defects."

The community chest plan is the last word in the development of organized welfare work. As conducted in other cities, it is an important social factor through which the citizenship arrives at a better understanding as well as keener appreciation of up-to-date methods in handling social welfare work and providing relief for needy people.

As previously pointed out by other executives of the Community Chest, the big two outstanding factors that should in themselves furnish sufficient argument, for supporting the drive are—one big drive in place of half a dozen small ones—and the reduction of overhead expense incidental to managing campaigns to a minimum, thus allowing a greater percentage of all money collected to be used in actual relief and welfare work. In this connection, Mr. Lewis calls attention to the fact the community chest plan, as tried out in other cities, has eliminated the waste of indiscriminate charity as well as abuses on the part of unscrupulous persons. While the great humanitarian feature of the plan is retained as the outstanding object, efforts are being made to put to practical, 100-per cent effective use of every dollar collected—substituting sense and recognized business principles for ill advised though well meaning sentiment.

While business and professional men and wealthy individuals will be depended upon for the greater part of the quota, the canvas will be extended to all employees and wage earners who are willing to do their bit in this commendable undertaking. The belief is expressed that this class of citizens will not "ride a free horse" but gladly rally to the support of the movement to the extent of their ability.

The statement adds that it should be borne in mind that the service rendered by the participating agencies is without any other aim than to improve social and moral conditions in the city and to relieve suffering—aims that should appeal to every normal man or woman.

In closing Mr. Lewis adds that the name of the men and women identified with the drive in one capacity or another should be a sufficient guarantee that every dollar collected will be accounted for in a satisfactory manner and put to the best possible use.

patting agencies knowing that certain designated gifts will come to it, should be asked to be fair enough to deduct that much from their regular budget.

All agencies, in fairness to the general plan should be asked to refrain from systematically asking for designated gifts.

Each agency's financial records should be in such shape, that an audit could be made at any time, and copy of an audited financial statement for the year previous, should accompany the anticipated budget each year when it is filed with the budget committee.

It is recommended that no extensive building campaign be included in the Community Chest campaign but it is also recommended that where agencies wish to put on a building campaign, that approval first be secured of the community chest board of directors, thus making of this board of directors, a sort of campaign planning body.

All gifts designated for various organizations are to go to that organization over and above its share in the Community Chest, so that if the Community Chest campaign should, at any time, fail to reach its objective, the agencies whose strength caused people to indicate their desire to have their money go to that organization would be enriched over the other organizations by these designated gifts. Particular

Deer So Tame Now They Ignore Humans

ANAHEIM, Nov. 18.—A herd of deer reported to have become so tame that they pay little attention to travelers or employees of the Southern California Edison plant in San Antonio canyon on the road to Camp Baldy is the novel sight told of by City Manager J. W. Price of Anaheim, who returned Sunday from a visit with relatives in that vicinity.

The deer seem to realize that they are protected by law and continue their peaceful grazing and nibbling with all the assurance imaginable.

In this connection, Mr. Lewis calls attention to the fact the community chest plan, as tried out in other cities, has eliminated the waste of indiscriminate charity as well as abuses on the part of unscrupulous persons. While the great humanitarian feature of the plan is retained as the outstanding object, efforts are being made to put to practical, 100-per cent effective use of every dollar collected—substituting sense and recognized business principles for ill advised though well meaning sentiment.

Each agency's financial records should be in such shape, that an audit could be made at any time, and copy of an audited financial statement for the year previous, should accompany the anticipated budget each year when it is filed with the budget committee.

It is recommended that no extensive building campaign be included in the Community Chest campaign but it is also recommended that where agencies wish to put on a building campaign, that approval first be secured of the community chest board of directors, thus making of this board of directors, a sort of campaign planning body.

All gifts designated for various organizations are to go to that organization over and above its share in the Community Chest, so that if the Community Chest campaign should, at any time, fail to reach its objective, the agencies whose strength caused people to indicate their desire to have their money go to that organization would be enriched over the other organizations by these designated gifts. BANKER TELLS OF VALUE OF THRIFT HABITS

By J. K. HERMON
Vice President of Pacific-Southwest Bank

Thrift is a habit, and like all habits can not be acquired and discarded at will, but becomes fixed. So too, is charity a habit, the habit of remembering that there are helpless children and needy old folk who are dependent upon the unselfishness of the more fortunate in life. Thrift is taught to children, that they may abhor waste, waste not only of money and useful material for selfish pleasure, but waste of their thoughts upon personal pleasure only without recognizing that there are unfortunate people in our own community who need a helping hand. The habit of thrift when wisely conducted will become a pleasure. So too, the habit of charity, or giving will be a pleasure. Good citizenship demands not only the quality of saving but that of giving. It develops the sense of well-being—of being a good citizen in fact as well as in name. We would be narrow minded and selfish to consider saving and spending wisely for ourselves only, for each individual owes something to society, particularly to those unfortunate who through misfortune need the support of the community to give them a chance to live.

The principle of thrift is vital to community progress as well as to individual progress. Every community is faced with the necessity of properly caring for the needy in that community. It is a saving to all the members when the community as a whole makes use of business principles in charitable and welfare relief—when it undertakes in one unified effort to support and finance the various social agencies; thus eliminating the many charity drives which demand so much of time and money of the community, and which enables the agencies to devote full time to actual welfare and relief work, without worrying over their individual financial problems.

In this connection, Mr. Lewis calls attention to the fact the community chest plan, as tried out in other cities, has eliminated the waste of indiscriminate charity as well as abuses on the part of unscrupulous persons. While the great humanitarian feature of the plan is retained as the outstanding object, efforts are being made to put to practical, 100-per cent effective use of every dollar collected—substituting sense and recognized business principles for ill advised though well meaning sentiment.

While business and professional men and wealthy individuals will be depended upon for the greater part of the quota, the canvas will be extended to all employees and wage earners who are willing to do their bit in this commendable undertaking. The belief is expressed that this class of citizens will not "ride a free horse" but gladly rally to the support of the movement to the extent of their ability.

The statement adds that it should be borne in mind that the service rendered by the participating agencies is without any other aim than to improve social and moral conditions in the city and to relieve suffering—aims that should appeal to every normal man or woman.

In closing Mr. Lewis adds that the name of the men and women identified with the drive in one capacity or another should be a sufficient guarantee that every dollar collected will be accounted for in a satisfactory manner and put to the best possible use.

It is recommended that no extensive building campaign be included in the Community Chest campaign but it is also recommended that where agencies wish to put on a building campaign, that approval first be secured of the community chest board of directors, thus making of this board of directors, a sort of campaign planning body.

Drive Started In Anaheim for Red Cross

ANAHEIM, Nov. 18.—Seeking the aid of additional workers in the local Red Cross campaign in order that it may be brought successfully to a close as early as possible, Director Lee Eicholtz today started an intensive drive to put over Anaheim's quota of 750 new members.

With many persons ready to contribute if they could only be reached, a wonderful shortage of workers here promises to extend the drive past its time limit unless the aid of more people can be enlisted.

With Saturday night set as the tentative date for the ending of the drive about one fourth of the quota has been raised and while no alarm is felt regarding the filling of the quota the probability of an extension of the time limit is deplored.

In this connection, Mr. Lewis calls attention to the fact the community chest plan, as tried out in other cities, has eliminated the waste of indiscriminate charity as well as abuses on the part of unscrupulous persons. While the great humanitarian feature of the plan is retained as the outstanding object, efforts are being made to put to practical, 100-per cent effective use of every dollar collected—substituting sense and recognized business principles for ill advised though well meaning sentiment.

SPECIAL TAX FOR LIGHTING IS SUGGESTED

Still perplexed for a method of solving the problem of raising finances to pay for full lighting of the ornamental lighting systems on North Main, East and West Fifth street and West Fourth street, the city council will meet in executive session some afternoon next week and attempt to evolve a scheme by which the lamps on the ornamental posts may shed rays of light over the street on which they are located.

Again discussing the matter at the meeting last night, Councilmen J. W. Tubbs, George McPhee and Nat Neff, the only members present, commented on the situation of property owners having paid the cost of installation—and getting nothing for the expense except unlighted lamps.

A special tax levy, which voters would have to approve, or attempt to secure amendment by the state legislature of the tax provision of the state law governing cities of the fifth class were suggested as possible action for increasing the revenue of the city. The present law limits the tax rate to $1 on each $100 assessed valuation.

The parking ordinance and other matters of city importance now in an uncompleted state, also will be taken up at the executive session. Neff, street commissioner, W. G. Knox, street superintendent, and Tubbs this week will make a complete survey of the proposed restricted parking zone for the purpose of getting data to be included in the ordinance to be drafted and presented in the immediate future.

Application of the Pashley Motor company for permission to erect on the northwest corner of Second and Broadway fireproof sheds for establishment of a used car market was referred to McPhee and Neff for investigation.

G. M. Cole was granted permission to locate repair garage at the corner of Washington avenue and Poinsettia street.

Bids were taken under advisement for supplying the city with 3000 feet of eight-inch cast iron pipe and 6000 feet of six-inch pipe of the same type for use by the water department. Three bids were presented.

Petition of property owners for improvement of a portion of South Ross street was referred to the city engineer for checking. The petitioners propose paving with 5½ inch asphaltic concrete for a distance of 100 feet south of Fairview.

Plans and specifications were adopted for paving ten foot strips on the north and south sides of West Fifth street from Artesia to the Pacific Electric railway crossing. Walks and curbs will be put in on the north side and curbing on the south side and side walks on a portion of the north side.

A petition was filed for paving an alley running from Broadway to Birch street, between First and Second streets. The alley runs east and west by the side of the new building erected on North Broadway for A. G. Flagg.

No protests were offered last night on the paving of Walnut avenue, and a resolution ordering the work on the street was passed by the board of city trustees at their regular meeting.

A new safe for the keeping of the city records was ordered from the Safe Cabinet company of Santa Ana. The bid for the safe was $424.20. The Sweetser and Baldwin safe company of Los Angeles bid $424 for a safe but failed to comply with the specifications.

A resolution providing for a lighting system on Huntington avenue between Detroit and Lincoln streets, was laid over until the next meeting. Thirty two lights are included in the system.

The next meeting of the local city council will be held in the afternoon. The change was decided upon unanimously by the city board of trustees at a recent meeting. The next meeting will be held December 15 at 1:30 p. m.

OPERATION ADVISED FRIEND SAID "DON'T DO IT!"

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First. Proved Good Advice

Chicago, Illinois.—"Just a few lines to let you know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me."

I was married going on for three years, and went to a doctor and was taking treatments twice a week for pains every month. I used to lie in bed three or four days with them and the doctor would call and inject something into my arm to put me asleep so I would not feel the pains. At last she said I wanted to be operated on if I wanted any children. Well, I just happened to go to see a friend with her first baby and she said, "Don't do it! You go and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you won't need any operation." So my husband got me a bottle right away. Now I have two lovely children. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman. It has helped me and a lot of my friends."

Details Are Learned of Pretty Wedding in Los Angeles

The wedding of Miss Gladys Ferrar, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Ferrar of Gramercy Drive, Los Angeles, and Milburn G. Harvey of Santa Ana was one of the interesting events of November 11, the ceremony taking place at high noon in the Church of the Angels, Los Angeles.

The beautiful Episcopal marriage service was read in the presence of forty guests, all close friends and relatives of the bride and groom. There were no attendants and the bride was given in marriage by her mother.

Miss Ferrar chose an ensemble suit in black and rose with becoming hat to harmonize her costume.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests motored to Hotel Vista Del Arroyo, Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, where a beautifully appointed luncheon awaited them. Just after the bride had cut the cake and the dessert course was being served Mr. and Mrs. Harvey eluded their friends by motor for the north for a fortnight's trip which will include the Stanford-California football game at Berkeley.

Mrs. Harvey who has been the incentive for many pre-nuptial events, is a graduate of the University of Southern California and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mr. Harvey is a Delta Upsilon of Stanford University and a graduate of the Law College of the University of Southern California. He is now associated with his father, John A. Harvey, in the practice of law in this city where he and his bride will establish their home following the return from the honeymoon.

Attending the wedding from this city were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harvey and sons Albert and Harold Harvey, their house-guest, Mrs. G. H. Yeo of Ashland, Oregon, a sister of Mrs. Harvey who came south to attend the wedding; Mrs. Beil Cordell, aunt of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baker, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. Baker's sister, Miss Ora Davis.

Many Friends Enjoy Pleasant Evening

Mr. and Mrs. H. Fred Townor of 1138 West Fifth street were the genial hosts Saturday evening to a number of their friends from this city and out-of-town points. Their home was decorated with red carnations, bachelor buttons and feathery fern, the appointments carrying out the bright hues of the coming holiday season.

The diversion for the evening was the game of 500, the prizes being awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Smith, first; Mrs. J. P. Callahan and Dick Callahan second; and Joe Stroupe Jr. and Mrs. Mike Mastich the consolation. Late in the evening a delicious collation of salad, wafers, home-made doughnuts, olives, coffee and pie was served.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mastich, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schiassman, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Callahan and Miss Edna Kinsella, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pankey, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntire, Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chapman, Orange; Josie Stroupe, Joe Stroupe Jr. and L. Shaffer, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Smith, San Pedro; Mr. and Mrs. McNeely, Floyd McNeely, Pasadena.

On Sunday the same company augmented by the children of the various families, gathered at the Townor home for dinner, with covers laid for thirty-three. Each family brought some delectable dish for the menu.

Following the enjoyment of dinner, the afternoon was passed with radio music and jolly conversation.

Missionary Society

A feature of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society meeting of the First M. E. church which is to be held tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors, will be the display of "The Uplifted Cross," a device which is being used this year by many of the auxiliaries of the denomination, to visualize the aims of the society for the coming year. Every member of the society is asked to help meet one of these aims by making this meeting a dues-paying occasion.

The devotional service will be led by Mrs. Allie Fitz and the address of the afternoon, based upon the first chapter of the new study book, "Morning Light" will be given by Mrs. Mary Stone.

Judge Thomas Class

Planning to complete their sewing for charitable purposes before the Thanksgiving holiday, members of the Judge Thomas Bible class of the First Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting Friday at the J. N. Osborn home, 1639 East Fourth street. Each is asked to bring a contribution for the luncheon to be served at noon and also needles and thimble.

Business Girls Enjoy Account of Bisby's European Trip

Embarking at New York City amidst farewells called from the largest crowd ever assembled to see a steamer depart, enjoying the functions and games aboard ship, landing at South Hampton to be met by the mayor and other dignitaries all in full regalia, and continuing on an English and Continental tour, such was the delightful trip enjoyed vicariously by the Business and Professional Women's club yesterday when the members listened with close attention to R. L. Bisby describe the summer abroad enjoyed by him and Mrs. Bisby.

Mr. Bisby represented the Santa Ana Ad club at the big convention held at Wembley, England, during the exposition there and then he and Mrs. Bisby continued on to France, Belgium, Italy and Switzerland. His account of the countries visited, while condensed to fit the time for speaking, was most illuminating.

He touched upon labor conditions declaring that in England it seemed that the women bore the brunt of the work and in several cases he saw a woman, a donkey and a dog hitched together doing the field work in the most primitive way.

Switzerland, clean, thrifty, prosperous, they found delightful, although prices were high. The French Alps, Nice, Rome, Naples, all offered interest to the travelers. They particularly enjoyed the famous Blue Grotto on Capri in the Bay of Naples while the drive from Naples to Amalfi and Sorrento, Mr. Bisby declared to be the most beautiful in the world.

In connection with the fruit of that country, the speaker declared that Italy could never offer any competition to California as the citrus fruit was scaly, poorly colored and flavored, and in every respect, inferior to that of this state. As for macaroni, he states that he had to return home to get a really well-cooked dish.

Venice was described in a most interesting manner and Mr. Bisby told a number of interesting tales of the city. He had while there including one night when they were strolling on the famous square of St. Marks and a storm came upon, plunging the city into darkness.

One of his most interesting descriptions was of the quaint little island of Maarken off the coast of Holland where dress, customs and geographical features were described.

In summing up his impressions, Mr. Bisby declared that they found Europe to be entirely capable of being self-sustaining; that crops were excellent especially in Germany, and that the Dawes plan was proving entirely successful in rehabilitating Europe and re-establishing prosperity there.

There was an excellent crowd out to enjoy Mr. Bisby's talk including one guest, Miss Dorothy Green who recently arrived from Kansas City where she was connected with a daily newspaper.

Miss Mabel McFadden the president, announced that the program committee would sponsor a November party Monday night, November 22 at the home of Miss Holly Lash, 220 Cypress street.

Regent Commends Education Week

Leaving today for Los Angeles where she was to address the Southern Council of the Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon, on "Education," Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, regent of the Santa Ana chapter, called attention of her chapter members to National Education week now in progress and cited the offerings of local theaters as evidence of the interest taken in the movement.

"Janice Meredith" as a picture of the Revolutionary war period and "Abraham Lincoln," illustrative of the Civil war period were cited as being of special interest and the efforts of the young people and adults to bring them at this particular time, as highly commendable.

Nurses' Association

District No. 16 of the California Nurses' association will hold its November meeting at Orange county hospital Friday, November 21, when student nurses will present a demonstration of their work under the direction of Mrs. Salsbury, the instructor. The hour named is 2:30 p. m.

RECOVER BULLION
DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—Gold valued at more than a million dollars has been salvaged from the Laurentic, the White Star liner that sank off the west coast of Ireland in 1917. In addition, considerable silver specie has been recovered. The bullion has been transferred to the Bank of England.

Joint-Ease for Creaky Joints

Just rub on the new application called Joint-Ease if you want to know what real joint comfort is. It's for stiff, swollen, or painful joints whether caused by rheumatism or not. A few seconds' rubbing and it soaks right in through skin and flesh right down to ligament and bone. It oils up and limbers up the joints, soothes the inflammation and reduces the swelling. Joint-Ease is the one great remedy for all joint troubles. C. S. Kelley and other live druggists are dispensing it daily—a tube for 60 cents.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick. Mail orders accepted.

Annual Charity Ball To Draw Hundreds To the Inn

Again is Santa Ana's social circle agog with anticipation of the annual charity ball of the Orange County Shrine club which as in the three previous years, will be held at St. Ann's Inn and is scheduled for Thursday night with dancing to begin at 8:30 o'clock, when Noble D. Eymann Huff, president of the club, will open the grand march with Mrs. Huff.

It will be truly the Night of the Red Fez, for all nobles are requested to make the fez the outstanding feature of their dress which otherwise may be formal or informal, according to individual tastes. Even Santa Claus will leave his fur cap at home for the occasion and will adopt the fez, for he is one of the greatest Shriner of all.

For Santa Claus will be present as he has always been in the past—not so much to distribute gifts but rather to collect them for the little people whose Christmas otherwise would be a sad and gloomy affair indeed. For the annual Charity ball is designed to give Christmas cheer to the needy rather than merriment to the Shriner and their friends, and each year enlarges its scope because of the increased interest shown by the public.

Associated with D. Eymann Huff, president of the Orange County Shrine club, are Harry L. Hanson, secretary, and F. C. Krause of Fullerton, treasurer, while R. L. Bisby will act as Santa Claus as he has always done, in his capacity as chairman of the relief committee.

Entertains at Birthday Dinner
In honor of the birthday of Fred Vance of East Fifth street, Mrs. Vance planned a successful little dinner last night with her sister, Miss Lillian Fowler, as assistant hostess.

A delectable three-course dinner was served with covers laid for the honoree and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vance and their children, Wayne and Wendell and little Miss Helen Louise Vance, Mr. and Mrs. "Daddy" Vance and small daughter Dorothy, and Mrs. Vance, sr., mother of Fred and "Daddy" Vance.

"Daddy" Vance is a prominent baseball star and has been with the Brooklyn Nationals for the past three years.

Household Economics

SIXTH SECTION
Ebell's sixth Household Economics section will meet with Mrs. Hervey T. Trueblood, 518 South Main street Friday, November 21, although not at the usual hour for sewing. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. and in the afternoon, roll-call will be responded to with opinions as to "the most used utensils."

The program will offer a "dress review" when old styles and new will be illustrated. Next Friday, November 21, the members of Ebell's Third Household Economics section will be entertained at the Balboa home of Mrs. W. W. Crosier where a pot-luck luncheon will be enjoyed at noon.

In announcing the event, the section reporter, Mrs. J. B. Stewart asked "will each member please take sandwiches for one as well as their 'pet dish' and individual table service."

Past Presidents

White and yellow chrysanthemums lent a festive air to the home of Mrs. Esther Gardner, 212 Orange avenue recently when members of the Past Presidents' club of Daughters of Veterans were welcomed as guests.

Mrs. Gardner served an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner with the great American fowl as the piece de resistance. The table was attractively centered with massed chrysanthemums and Thanksgiving symbols figured in the minor appointments. All the members of the club were present.

Birthday Pleasures Are Shared With Little Friends

Her ninth birthday was a most happy occasion for little Miss Lorraine Farrage, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Farrage of 2675 North Main street, for it was celebrated yesterday afternoon in a delightful manner when a group of friends of the young honoree were entertained at a delightful party.

All the favorite games of childhood were enjoyed and a candy hunt introduced by Mrs. Farrage, yielded much merriment. Birthday gifts too, were a pleasant part of the afternoon, each guest adding a pretty present to the number showered on Lorraine.

At the refreshment hour all assembled around a table where a snowy birthday cake with nine little white candles was nestled in smilax and rosebuds. Each place was twined with the artistic sprays arranged by the little hostess herself. Ice cream and sweets were served with the birthday cake and snap favors contained clever caps which added to the merriment.

Lorraine's guests included Nina June Robertson, Josephine Madrid, Lois Waldren, Idylle Johnston, Frances Johnston, Ruth Owens, Claude Owens and Jimmy Hill.

Youngsters Present Pleasant Program

A delightful program of readings and song presented by young pupils in expression of Miss Holly Lash, was enjoyed by parents and friends of the youngsters who were greeted at the home of Miss Lash, 220 Cypress street, a few evenings ago.

The youthful artists varied in age from 5 to 13 years but in ability and attainments might rank with those much older. Little Betty Jo Willets opened the entertainment hour with her rendering of "My Dolly" and was followed by Master Freddie James, a five year old vocalist, who sang "The School Bell" by Rogers.

Following them on the program were Charles Spicer Jr. reading "Chums" and "Henry Blake's Chum" by Foley; Valerie Sutton who also gave a Foley reading, "Conscious Ignorance"; Little Natalie Neff in "If You Meet a Fairy" and "If" by Rose Flynn; Charlene Lowell in "How the Camel Got His Hump" by Kipling; Helen Mott of Garden Grove in "Mother's Glasses" by Edgar A. Guest and Foley's "The Reconciliation of Pa"; Arlene Crawford in Kipling's "How the Rhinoceros Got His Skin"; Mildred Spicer in "The Fairy Queen" by Rose Flynn; and Neva Fae Gerdes in Raymond Alden's "The Forest Full of Friends."

The children formed a junior club which will meet at monthly intervals at the home of each member in turn when a program of readings and songs will be given with the mothers as honored guests.

Greets Old Friend

Mrs. Dorothy Kelley of 1212 West Sixth street, had the pleasure of renewing an acquaintance of 18 years ago with Florence Roberts who with her company was on the Yost program last Saturday. The two were friends in Salt Lake City and Mrs. Kelley entertained Miss Roberts and her company at her West Sixth street home following the matinee Saturday afternoon.

Ebell Travelers

When Ebell's Fourth Travel section meets tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. E. L. Madden at her home, 1109 North Broadway, it will be to have the pleasure of hearing her daughter, Miss Mildred Murphy, relate experiences and observations of her recent trip abroad, especially in France. The program will begin at two o'clock.

Aid Society

The south section members of the First M. E. Aid society will be entertained Thursday at an all-day meeting at the Knutson cottage on Jessamine street, Laguna Beach where a picnic dinner will be served at noon. Each member will take sandwiches and table service for one and her favorite prepared dish. They will meet at 10 o'clock in the morning at the J. H. Tompkins home, 711 South Sycamore street from whence the picnicers will leave in a group.

DAWN OF NEW ERA IS SEEN IN EAST NOW

That people in Eastern states are looking forward to a general era of prosperity, now that the presidential election is over, and that California has suffered less from a business depression than the remainder of the United States, was the general impression of business conditions as brought back to Santa Ana by W. A. Huff, a local business man who recently returned from a number of Eastern states, which he and Mrs. Huff visited during the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff went from here to Toronto, Canada, then back to the United States at New York, visiting in Washington, Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, Memphis, New Orleans, and stopping over in Princeton, Ky., to stay with friends. At each city in some fifteen or twenty states Huff inquired into business conditions to find that all communities were dull, but that business in the larger stores in all the cities were "holding their own." He stated there was a general impression throughout the East that business would pick up immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff were in Louisville on the night of election day, and from their experiences he tells of that southern city, which seemed to have been one of the most unique sidelights gained while on the trip.

Praises New Orleans.

From Louisville, Huff went to New Orleans. He stated that it was not generally known that the river there was some two hundred feet deep. He prophesied that the city of New Orleans was one of the coming cities of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Huff, while in New Orleans visited an old cemetery where the dead were all buried above the ground, this being the custom in the Southern city on account of soil conditions. They also visited a cemetery where only monuments costing $5,000 or more were allowed.

"In all the trip there seemed to be more men on the streets in Louisville and in New Orleans than in the other cities. This, to me, indicated there was more loafing being done there than elsewhere." Huff explained that one cause for this in Louisville was because the races were on at the time, flooding the city with visitors.

Crops Late in South.

Corn crops in Indiana and Kentucky were late this year, he said, and there was a general opinion that a freeze would cause an enormous damage to this crop before the harvest time. He stated that in Southern Ohio several milks of corn was seen, still green.

The tobacco crop, he said, was not so good this season in certain part of the South, according to people he talked with, although the crop was a large one. In the South, he and Mrs. Huff saw negroes picking cotton for the first time. The crop there is large this year and the grower is elated over it, because prices have jumped satisfactorily for him.

"But after living in California, the rest of the country looks dull and dirty. A trip back East makes a fellow realize what a wonderful country this is."

DENIES REPORT AS TO 'MYSTERY' DEATH

COSTA MESA, Nov. 18.—Reports about the "mystery death" of Frank von Kerm in Costa Mesa last week are given rebuttal in a statement to The Register by Mrs. Ralph Viele of that place, at whose home Von Kerm had been living. She designates as without foundation the rumor that he left a fortune of $80,000.

"Mr. Von Kerm was not 'mysterious' in life or death," as claimed by one of the published reports, stated Mrs. Viele. "He had been in Costa Mesa for the past five months. He did not die from heart disease, but from Bright's disease. He was buried in Fairhaven cemetery by the Knights of Pythias lodge and not in a pauper's grave, as reported."

"We were under the impression that Mr. Von Kerm had one living relative, a cousin, but find we were mistaken, the man to whom we telegraphed was out of town for a few days. He answered at once upon his return and stated that he was a friend of years standing, but not a relative."

Mr. Von Kerm was second reader in the Christian Science church of Snohomish, Wash., for a little over two years; also a member of the Knights of Pythias at the same place.

In the past ten years we have found Mr. Von Kerm to be honest, faithful, always trying to practice the "Golden Rule," and not a mystery, only unfortunate.

FRIENDSHIPS FOSTERED BY JR. RED CROSS

An interchange of friendly Christmas greetings and gifts of remembrances is taking place between children all over the world enrolled in Junior Red Cross. This is one of the most delightful features of the International School Correspondence fostered by the American Junior Red Cross among the children of the world and is something the children look forward to almost the entire year. Although Christmas is still seven weeks away, the spirit of this season is alive in school rooms all over the country. Juniors are preparing their little gifts to send to friends far away, but living and real to them through the many photographs and letters explaining their home and school life, which they have exchanged.

The first Christmas package to pass through the Pacific division office of the American Red Cross this year came from the Sixth and Seventh grade Juniors of the Danville Grammar School, Danville, Calif., to the Juniors in the James Monroe School at St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. It is just brimming over with Christmas cheer, and every item was made by the children themselves, emphasizing the Junior Red Cross ideal to do something for others. A gorgeous colored string of eucalyptus nuts, strands of handmade beads, bright blue pencils with wax work decorations and small ornaments at the top embedded in the wax, lot dish mats, hand embroidered book marks and handkerchiefs and Hallows' heads made of acorns and grinning ferociously, these all are doing their bit to make peace on earth a reality by creating a bond of friendship among the children of nations without reference to color and customs.

During the summer, Juniors in the Virgin Islands, returned the first salutation of Christmas gifts with a shipment of coral, shells, woven hats and baskets, all of which have been of inestimable benefit to Danville students, making the pages of their geography fairly live with the spirit of the islands.

Must steak be done
just one way to suit you?

Would you enjoy a steak served to you on a platter of "Maybe this is done enough for you and maybe it is not?" Chances are you wouldn't. True, the actual steak taste is the same—whether it is rare, medium, or well done—but you like your steak done just one way.

Same with M.J.B. Coffee. M.J.B. asks you to like coffee your way—strong or mild or half-way. The flavor of M.J.B. will always be the same; but the strength-per-cup that suits you depends on your coffee taste.

The M.J.B. taste-finding chart shows you how to find it. You can get one free at your grocer's or direct from M. J. Brandenstein & Co., San Francisco.

Coffee

You may have a "pat" way of making coffee and a "pet" way of drinking it—strong or mild, with cream or without; but this much is coffee-certain:

You can't escape the rich, full-bodied flavor of M.J.B. That's always in the cup—a lifetime of coffee experience puts it there.

And so is economy! For M.J.B. is a top crop coffee—double-rich in body and strength. That's why it goes farther—costs less per cup!

EXTENSION OF STAGE LINES PLANNED FOR BEACH TOWNS

County Chambers Will Be Represented at Commission Hearing

ASK COMPLETE LOOP

New Routes Will Open Up County Shore Line to Interior Sections

With the view of opening Orange county beaches to the interior country, representatives from Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, and Balboa chambers of commerce, and from the Orange County Harbor commission will attend a hearing of the Railroad Commission at Laguna Beach Wednesday morning at 11 a. m. The meeting will be held in the chamber of commerce building there.

The hearing will be upon the extension of the franchise of the Laguna Beach Short Line Auto Stage company from Serra to San Juan Capistrano over the Roscoe road. The stage line already has a franchise between Balboa and Serra over the state highway and is operating from Serra to Laguna.

With the extension of the line a complete circuit will be afforded by auto stage from San Juan Capistrano to Balboa and from Balboa the coast cities will be connected by Pacific Electric service. The stage company will be ready to put into operation auto busses between Laguna Beach and Balboa as soon as the state highway over that portion of the county is completed.

T. B. Talbert, chairman of the county board of supervisors, in an address to the Huntington Beach chamber of commerce yesterday declared that he believed the extension line would be of immense benefit to Orange county coast towns.

"With the completion of the mountain road between Elsinore and San Juan Capistrano which is now under consideration, and the completion of the state highway along the Orange county coast, the way will be thrown open for the people of the interior to come to Orange county beaches in comfort and will not make a long trip for them," Talbert stated. He pointed out the fact that the extension of the stage line would allow the short line at Laguna to connect with stages operating from the interior country to San Juan Capistrano.

"Many people will take advantage of the excellent opportunity to come to our beaches," Talbert declared. Every Orange county coast town will benefit by the opening of the roads and the extension of the stage line facilities, it was pointed out.

Holidays for Students Are Announced

"Hurrah!" shouts the school boy and the school walls echo "hurrah." And he has reason for his glee for Christmas vacation is to start one week earlier this year than was planned.

According to J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, vacation is to be ordered December 15 in order to allow the teachers to attend institute session in Los Angeles during the week of December 15 to 19. Schools over the city are to be closed on that date, opening two weeks later, December 23, Cranston said.

Nearly five thousand students from kindergarten to junior college will be out for the festive holidays in Santa Ana alone and more than twenty thousand over the county. New Year's will be held a holiday after school reopens.

THIRSTY MAN IS SUSPECTED AS MARAUDER

Housewives of Santa Ana are urged by police to beware of the loitering type of man that comes around to the back door and asks for a drink of water. This same man on as many as three different occasions is suspected of robbing three different homes in Santa Ana.

In laying suspicion to this type of burglar, police have been told the same story by three Santa Ana housewives, after their homes had been entered and robbed. The man, tall, thin, and with a white spot in one eye, seizes the housewife out on the side pavement, sweeping. He goes up to her and taking off his hat says: "Is there a hydrant here?" When told there is he asks for a drink of water. After getting permission, he goes over to the hydrant and just before drinking says, "Is there a cup here? I don't want to drink out of the faucet, I might get a bug in my mouth."

Then when told there is no cup he says, "Well, I'll just step in the kitchen here."

If he gets in, he makes a mental note of the architecture of the house.

That night or the next, the house is robbed.

Three times have the police found out that houses have been robbed recently, by apparently the same man, after the same "drink of water gag" has been staged by the strange man.

Police say, "Keep that man out of the kitchen if you would protect your jewels."

SAYS STATE LEGISLATION EFFECTUALLY COPE WITH HIGHWAY TRUCKING ISSUE

Reduction of truck load weights by state law enacted two years ago has effected a noticeable slackening in the depreciation of highways. Official circles are well pleased with results and contemplate no attempt to revise the present laws.

This was the attitude represented today by J. L. McBride, county superintendent of highways, when questioned regarding prospects of legislative revision at the next session of the legislature.

"So far as I know," said McBride, "there is no plan afoot to seek changes in the present regulations, unless such a move should be made by the trucking interests, and I am not aware of such a purpose."

"We, as officials, are satisfied with the present weight laws providing they are observed. And I will say for the Truckmen's association, that as an organization it is trying to observe the regulations faithfully. The only trouble we have is with the irresponsible individual truck driver."

"While it is not possible for us to exactly measure the results, we certainly can see a marked difference between the old weight limit of 28,000 pounds and the new weight limit, which amounts virtually to 24,000 pounds. The law says 22,000, but it gave the owners of the heavier trucks three years' time to meet the requirements of 22,000 pounds, meanwhile allowing 24,000 pound loads."

Holding Up Well. "Some of the older highways, which had started to disintegrate under the previous weight limits, are showing the effects of the reduced loads, very naturally. But our newer pavements prove the results of the reduced weights. Nowhere are the new sections of our county highway system breaking down."

As to the possibility of legislation barring solid tires in favor of the pneumatic, as a further safeguard to the highways, McBride had little to divulge, he said. He admitted that the pneumatic tire would eliminate necessity of load weight laws. The truckmen themselves would then be forced to restrict weights for their own protection, he said. But as to whether there is a possibility of a pneumatic tire issue being brought before the legislature he could not say.

McBride, however, revealed that the pneumatic truck tire is regarded as practical in some quarters at least. That type is already being issued by the citrus trucking interests to a considerable extent, he said. The pneumatic tire, it appears, offers advantages in hauling through the soft soil of orchards.

Orange county's board of supervisors are setting an example in adoption of the pneumatic tire for trucks, said McBride.

Cheating distance! By the aid of a ten-inch telescope, junior college astronomy students make next door neighbors of Mars and other planets of the heavens in studying the celestial bodies at the local observatory. "Ruddy" Mars especially holds interest for the students in the class of fifty meeting on clear nights at the high school to view the skies.

Whether there is life on Mars is the old enigma of astronomers. None of the students have been able to prove their imaginative assertions that actual people could be seen with sufficient evidence to convince their skeptical classmates. Miss Jennie B. Lasby, class instructor, however, points to the recent discoveries of scientists as indicating favorable conditions for life.

"For a long time existence on Mars was thought impossible because of the low temperature of the planet," Miss Lasby explained. "In the recent observations taken by astronomers when Mars was nearer the earth than it will be again for a hundred years it was found that its atmosphere is susceptible to the red rays of the sun. In this case there would be enough heat to make life possible."

Through the telescope, Saturn yields its rings, Jupiter its moons, and the earth's moon shows its craters. Constellations are also studied by the students. At evening social meetings there can always be found a group of students off to one side "stargazing" and ejaculating such expressions as Draco, Cepheus, and Pegasus.

Unique is the fact that the telescope was built entirely by students in the shops of the school. Three college students, Harry Farrar, Claude Taylor and Phillip Taylor in 1921 worked out the technical problems and also erected the dome. During the last summer $125 of improvements were added.

The telescope has a range in magnification powers of from 50 to 240 strengths. The silver mirror of the instrument collects 25,000 times as much light as the human eye. According to Miss Lasby the junior college here is one of the few colleges of the country having a telescope observatory.

General Store at Atwood Is Robbed ANAHEIM, Nov. 18.—The general store at Atwood, owned by R. F. Zukerman, was entered and about $30 stolen from the cash register late Sunday, according to the report to the local police here.

A watch-dog left tied in the store while the family motored to Orange to visit friends presents a mystery. How the burglars entered and got along with their work without harming or being interfered with by the dog is something that cannot be understood as there were no evidence of the dog's activities.

Los Angeles police, who investigated the robbery, took several finger prints which are expected to lead to discoveries later.

FIFTY-SEVEN GREATEST MEN ARE SELECTED

High School History Class Wins Award In Los Angeles Church Contest

By ALFRED AULT

Can you name the fifty-seven varieties of a popular line of pickles?

A bigger task than that was ordered when the World History class at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school undertook to select the fifty-seven greatest benefactors of humanity since the beginning of the Christian era in winning the $100 prize offered Southern California students by the Wilshire Congregational church of Los Angeles in a recent contest.

Make Three Divisions The lists denoted the three greatest men in the fields of religion, learning and service during the last nineteen centuries. It is significant that in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries with the United States a nation four of the six named were Americans. In the eighteenth century Franklin was considered for learning and Washington for service while in the nineteenth Beecher for religion and Lincoln for service were adjudged greatest.

The judges including leading educators of the Southland; Rufus Von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California; James A. Blaisdell, president of Pomona college; Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of Los Angeles schools; Remsen S. Bird, president of Occidental college; E. C. Moore, director of the University of California, Southern Branch.

The list of names submitted by the World History class here under the instruction of Leon R. McMillen was declared by the judges to have tied with an identical list made out by Robert Ames, student at the Southern Branch, University of California.

The names are to be placed in a "scroll of honor" around the dome of the new structure being built by the Wilshire Congregational church.

Here They Are The selections follow: For religion: Jesus, Polycarp, Origen, St. Ambrose, St. Augustine, St. Benedict, Mohammed, St. Boniface, Erigena, St. Dunstan, Anselm, Abelard, St. Francis, Wycliffe, Luther, Xavier, Bunyan, Wesley, Beecher.

For learning: Pliny, Plutarch, Ulpian, Basil, St. Jerome, Boethius, Theodore, Bede, Alfred the Great, Bruno, St. Bernard, Thomas Aquinas, Roger Bacon, Dante, Erasmus, Shakespeare, Milton, Franklin, Darwin.

For service: St. Paul, Marcus Aurelius, Alexander, Diocletian, Constantine, Leo the Great, Justinian, Augustine, Charles Martell, Charlemagne, Aviceenna, William the Conqueror, Averroes, Gutenberg, Columbus, Magellan, Galileo, Washington, Lincoln.

Secretaries To Be At Luncheon HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 18. Secretaries of the chambers of commerce from Orange county towns will be the guests of Secretary J. A. Armistead of the local chamber of commerce here tomorrow at 12 o'clock luncheon it was announced today.

Matters pertaining to the recent work of the various chambers of commerce will be taken up at the luncheon. Among those who will be present are George F. Raymer, Fullerton; Charles E. Lee, Placentia; George W. Reid, Anaheim; V. D. Johnson, Orange; V. W. Reed, Seal Beach; Harry Welsh, Newport Beach and H. W. Pickorall, Garden Grove.

SEVEN NURSES TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

A class of seven nurses will be graduated from the County hospital and given diplomas at a program of entertainment planned for the evening of Dec. 5, according to official announcement from that institution.

The exercises and dance to follow will be open to the public and everyone is urged to attend since it is felt that few people of Orange county really know much of the work being done at the hospital now nor of the improvements that have been effected in every department.

The seven girls who will receive diplomas are Tinnie and Alice Dunn of San Bernardino, Gay Dage, Mary Perdomo, Edith Mork, Irene Sherman and Lovetta Chaffee, all of Anaheim.

A new class of probationers will be accepted into the hospital sometime in February. The course now required of nurses in the making covers a period of twenty-eight months and includes class work as well as the practical nursing experience.

TABLE KNIGHTS TO MEET TONIGHT

One hundred Knights of the Round Table from Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach tonight will be guests of the Santa Ana Round table at a dinner to be served at St. Ann's Inn at 6:30 o'clock.

A musical and speaking program has been arranged which includes acts from the Yost theater and musical numbers by many of Santa Ana's most prominent singers.

Speakers from Long Beach, Pasadena and Los Angeles will make five minute talks. Impromptu skits by the members of the visiting tables also are included in the program.

The Santa Ana Round Table was formed less than two months ago at the instigation of the Long Beach table. Today the Santa Ana service luncheon club boasts more than 35 members. The charter banquet of the new organization probably will be held during the early part of January.

Mexican Mangoes Evoke Interest

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 18.—An exhibit of Mexican Mangoes, grown on the Dr. Lester Keller ranch and shown by Calving Steiner, on display at the First National bank this week, has drawn much attention from ranchers.

The fruit is about the size of a persimmon and is of a golden color or having a peculiar taste that is individual to this fruit. The fruit thus far is a curiosity, there being few trees in this section.

PRETTY GIRL THINKS MAN INNOCENT IN STEALING CASE

Fullerton Maid, Now Living at Long Beach, Unfailing In Her Belief

INNOCENCE PROVED

Stage Co. Agent Whose Record Was Cleared Proved Her Right

By GEORGE DILLON

"I knew it. I told them that when it happened."

This was the remark of pretty Miss Phyllis La Pier, employed in a Long Beach fixture concern, when she was interviewed yesterday by a Register reporter as to why she had always professed confidence in the innocence of Alfonso G. Fonseca, 47, former brigadier general with the Canadian armies and scion of a millionaire family of Winnipeg, who was recently exonerated of embezzling $655 belonging to the Crown Stage company of Fullerton.

"My confidence," she said, "was imposed in him through my knowledge of the character of the man gleaned while I was employed at the same place with him. He was too, oh, much too big a man for the position he was holding and his character, outside of an occasional drinking party, was unimpeachable."

Fonseca Well Educated "He was always the perfect gentleman and his understanding and education seemed to have been gathered from so many wide sources as to fill him to handle a job so much beneath his ability."

Fonseca was convicted of embezzling the stage company's money but due to his splendid record was granted probation providing he would repay the missing money as rapidly as possible. He could do nothing but plead guilty of the charge against him at the time, knowing full well that he really was responsible for the missing money which he had secreted while intoxicated but the hiding place he could not remember after he had sobered.

Recently, his wife in Los Angeles, in cleaning out some odds and ends of discarded things came across the money secreted in an abandoned old suit case. Santa Ana officials were at once notified and Fonseca came back to have his name cleared.

Miss La Pier, a comely girl about whom hovers a mid-Victorian air of splendor and strength of character, exulted in the exoneration of Fonseca. Her quizzical gray eyes gleamed with that unfathomable light of the female of the species when vindication of her opinion is borne out.

"I just couldn't help but believe in him. His whole bearing was such as to fit the aristocrat and the blue-blood. He had many friends and was perfectly at ease under any circumstances."

"Just what do you think of his many acquaintances who did not retain confidence in his innocence?" she was asked.

Won't Condemn Others "I—well, it is not for me to comment on that as I know very little of how the situation was accepted by those who knew him best. It is enough to know that I was not mistaken in my judgment. I am satisfied."

"It was ever a mystery to me what became of the money but knowing him to be addicted to liquor to some extent I thought perhaps he had had this pocket picked while imbibing too freely."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clever, employed at the stage depot at Fullerton have said they never believed Fonseca had embezzled the money but figured that in a state of intoxication he had hidden it or that his successor, taking charge had accidentally burned it in the pile of refuse and things that had been cleared away from the office. Mrs. Clever is the sister of Miss La Pier.

HOLD BANQUET MARKING WEEK ON EDUCATION

American Education week, being observed throughout the United States this week, was ushered into Santa Ana last night in the form of a teachers' banquet and meeting held at St. Ann's Inn. The meeting was the first for the institute for Santa Ana city school teachers, and was attended by almost 200 people.

Frank Waller Allen, noted lecturer and publisher of Springfield, Ill., was the principal speaker, talking for more than an hour on his subject, "Turning Fear Into Faith."

In further observance of the week, pastors in the various Santa Ana churches have been asked to make their Sunday sermons apply to education, and many will do so, it was thought today, by J. A. Cranston superintendent of schools.

Yesterday, the first day of Education week was called "American Constitution Day." Today is "Patriotism Day," when the motto is "America First" and on which the flag will be discussed by students.

Tomorrow, "School and Teacher Day," will be observed by thinking of the teacher, her needs and duties. Thursday has been set aside as "Illiteracy Day." The slogan for this day is "No illiteracy in the United States by 1927. It can be done." "Community Day" is Friday, when parents have been asked to visit the schools, and several good reasons have been given for the visitations; to observe the teacher's attitude towards the pupils; to keep in touch with the work of the children; to encourage the teachers; to show willingness to cooperate; and to view their children from another angle other than at home.

Saturday is "Physical Education" day, and the slogan for the day is "A sick body makes a sick mind." Sunday is "For God and Country Day" with observance shifted from the schools to the churches. The slogan for Sunday is "A Godly nation cannot fail."

Chest Data Available for Workers

Information as to the workings of the Community Chest will be furnished prospective contributors at the campaign headquarters, First Christian church, Sixth and North Broadway, telephone number 1128-W, it was announced today by Roland E. Dye, campaign manager.

The census for the designated quota, $30,000, is being carried on by 17 teams under the general supervision of the board of directors of the Chest organization. These teams will work systematically until every prospective contributor has been asked to do his or her share toward relieving distress and suffering.

ELECTION TO DECIDE UPON NEW ROADWAY

Newport Beach Electors to Vote on Proposed Condemnation

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 19.—An election to decide upon the proposed condemnation of the Pacific right-of-way from B street to the Peninsula, will be held February 2, the city trustees passing the ordinance calling for the election at last night's session in the city hall.

A favorable vote on the matter will result in the P. E. right-of-way being converted into a public street. The proposed improvement will cost $54,000. The motion to place the matter before the voters was passed without a dissenting vote.

Few matters of importance were acted upon by the trustees last evening, the majority of the business presented being referred to the committee as a whole for action at the later date.

That the majority of the residents of Balboa Island do not look with favor upon the proposed street paving in their community was asserted by H. W. Worters, a resident of the district. Worters declared that the property owners are more interested in having the alleys paved than the streets. On advice of City Attorney Bishop, the matter was referred to the committee of a whole in order that the entire proposition might be thoroughly threshed out.

The matter of granting a franchise to the Southern Counties Gas company was presented by Jack Hayden of Santa Ana but no action was taken, the trustees, on motion of Trustee L. S. Wilkinson, voting to discuss the matter further with Mr. Hayden at another session.

The discussion on the gas franchise was featured by a good natured verbal duel between City Attorney Clyde Bishop and Hayden. The chance made in the proposed franchise by Bishop requiring the gas company to place mains in new streets at the order of the street superintendent was the principal bone of contention, Mr. Hayden agreeing to a 25 year franchise instead of a 40 year franchise as originally asked by the Southern Counties.

Hayden argued that such a requirement as proposed by Mr. Bishop would place the company at the mercy of unscrupulous promoters. The city attorney came back with the assertion that the city should insist upon this feature in the franchise in order to protect itself against having its streets torn up by the Southern Counties.

Refers to Record
The gas company representative declared that his firm was willing to stand on its past record regarding the placing of mains in streets already paved. The company has always repaired streets torn up in such a way that no damage or inconvenience resulted, he asserted. An ordinance requiring owners of candy vending machines to pay a yearly license of $20 was passed by the trustees without a dissenting vote.

The bid of E. M. Burris for street work was turned down by the trustees, Mayor George P. Wilson reporting that the committee as a whole had decided not to enter into street work contracts at this time.

The proposal to establish a landing on the pier for the use of fishing vessels will be taken up at a public hearing November 8, Mayor Wilson announced.

Bids for new fire hose were opened at the meeting. Action will be taken by the committee as a whole at a later date. Firms submitting figures were: Pioneer Rubber mills, San Francisco; American Rubber Manufacturing company of California, San Francisco Federal Supply company, Los Angeles; Hewitt Rubber company, Los Angeles; United States Rubber company, Eureka Fire Hose division, Los Angeles. Fire Chief A. W. Jackson will meet with the committee when the bids are considered.

The proposal that the city take steps to assist financially the lessees of the old Santa Ana golf links will be taken up at another meeting, the trustees decided.

Establishment of the office of city meat inspector is planned by the trustees, an ordinance aiming at the creation of such an office passing first reading.

Trio Arrested In Game Refuge

Searching for an official to whom they might deliver their guns, they said, J. F. Warren, Martin A. Baker and Harley Johnson, were arrested when they met the official, it was learned today following their appearance before Justice Jack Landell.

The court gave a suspended sentence of 25 days to each defendant, their technical guilt being admitted. Deputy Game Warden E. W. Searcy arrested the trio in the Cleveland national forest game refuge. They told Justice Landell that, when arrested, they had been searching for some officer for the purpose of giving up the shotguns all carried.

SAILOR HURT WHEN AUTOS IN COLLISION

Fog early this morning was responsible for an automobile wreck which caused serious injury to H. W. Purner, a sailor of San Diego. Purner was motoring on West Fifth street when he crashed into a telephone pole at the edge of the paving at the intersection of Buero road. He was thrown through the windshield, and his body was severely lacerated. Officer L. F. Howell, one of the first to reach the scene, rushed the man to the office of a physician.

Cyclist Run Over
A short distance from this wreck on West Fifth street, Mike Ybarra was slightly injured when an automobile knocked him from his bicycle and ran over his body. The motorist was said to have stopped his car, asked if the Mexican was hurt and, when he saw the cyclist rise to his feet, drove hastily away.

Couple, Child Suffer
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Raney and their year-old child, of 210 Benwell street, Bellflower, were taken to the Santa Ana hospital for treatment of minor injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when their automobile collided with a bus on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana. No report of the accident had been made this morning at the sheriff's office. R. W. Dunning of 718 W. Eighth street today had notified the police of a collision between his car and the machine driven by A. Hicks, a tourist from Santa Springs, Okla. The accident occurred at Third and Spurgeon streets at 3:45 p. m. yesterday. Both automobiles were badly damaged, although no one was injured.

Civic Bodies Will Unite for Christmas Tree

HUNTINGTON BEACH Nov. 18.—Under the direction of the Red Cross local civic organizations including Lions, Rotarians, Chamber of Commerce, Boy Scouts, Woman's club and other organizations will band together to supply the poor of the city with a big Christmas tree.

According to tentative plans announced yesterday at the chamber of commerce meeting, the tree will be placed at some conspicuous spot in the city and Christmas eve the various clubs and organizations will join in brightening the homes of those who will have no Christmas otherwise. Baskets of food as well as toys and clothing will be dispensed by the organizations.

POINTS OUT ADVANTAGES OF COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN FROM THRIFT STANDPOINT

In an address before the Life Insurance Men's association, at Elks club last night on "Thrift Week", J. P. Baumgartner a strong plea for constructive thrift; positive, aggressive thrift, rather than negative or passive thrift; thrift in moral and spiritual values, rather than thrift of merely monetary or material value.

As an example of constructive thrift, he pointed out the Community Chest drive which started today.

"This," said the speaker, "is an admirably balanced combination of moral and material thrift. It conserves the resources of the community in a direct and immediate way by combining six drives" into one, and bringing six units of welfare service into co-operative action, thus saving the time and energy of solicitors and eliminating duplication and waste in administration of funds.

"But the big conservation of both moral and material values—the 100 per cent constructive thrift—is effected in the efficient functioning of the six welfare service units which the Community Chest fund of $30,000 will insure. The Salvation Army, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the Veterans' Welfare association—all these organizations contribute immeasurably to the physical and moral health of the community and thereby conserve its material resources."

The speaker advocated thrift in voting—that is, vote carefully, intelligently, conscientiously. It is sometimes the highest form of constructive thrift to vote for bonds—indeed it is oftenest so. Likewise there is no real thrift in the mere hoarding of money; in the judicious and liberal spending of money is to be found the greatest real thrift.

Mr. Baumgartner said that he

BUSINESS MAN CITES REASONS FOR CHEST AID

Business reasons why the professional men and merchants of Santa Ana should support the Community Chest, were set forth today by Alexander Brownridge, treasurer of the Santa Ana Community Chest.

The big outstanding reason is this—it saves you time and money—and incidentally a good deal of irritation and annoyance. The community chest will abolish the growing nuisance of persistent and perpetual individual drives, "weeks" and tag-days for this and that—which are taking the business and professional men away from their occupations.

Right here is where the community chest plan saves the prospective contributor—and all merchants and professional men are always the choice prospects—not only money but valuable time for all he has to say to the solicitor of the independent drive. "See the community chest about your proposition, they have my subscription to activities of this nature."

Thus the community chest acts as a buffer, saves energy and time which the prospective contributor would have to give to these solicitations, and also saves him from giving money for something that may be wasted in overhead expense or inefficient administration.

"Saving the contributor money and time on such solicitations is therefore one service the community chest can render its patrons."

Yorba Linda Man Ships Avocados

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 18.—Favorable growing conditions and a splendid crop have made it possible for Albert Wilson, prominent avocado grower, to market some of the early Fuerte fruit this month, and is being shipped to the market.

Usually the first fruit does not reach the market before December and most of it not until after the first of the year.

Wilson reports a wonderful crop on the trees and with no unfavorable conditions he expects to have one of the biggest outputs of avocados in the history of the Whedon grove for this season.

SHOE DEALERS HIT OUTSIDE COMPETITORS

Prepared to fight outside competitors, Santa Ana shoe merchants today were organized for the purpose of launching a campaign to prove to citizens here that local wares were being sold for lower prices than the shoes and hosiery in other cities.

With their stockrooms filled with the latest styles from New York, the proprietors of the Miles Shoe company, Peterson's Shoe store, Beisel and Newcomb and Watkins' Bootery today were arranging special window displays to portray the trade-at-home idea.

A proclamation issued by the officials of these stores follows:

"Our stores are underselling Los Angeles shoe dealers at the rate of $2 to $5 a pair of shoes."

"Santa Ana merchants have complete stocks of the newest Eastern styles of men's, women's and children's shoes and hosiery."

"We pay taxes here and city license fees and otherwise assist in the welfare of Santa Ana and Orange county, and therefore we feel that we are entitled to the patronage of local citizens."

"To prove that we are worthy of this patronage, we shall continue making special efforts to keep our stocks complete with the latest styles and we shall continue to give more value for the money than our out-of-town competitors are giving."

BRICK BUSINESS BLOCK PLANNED

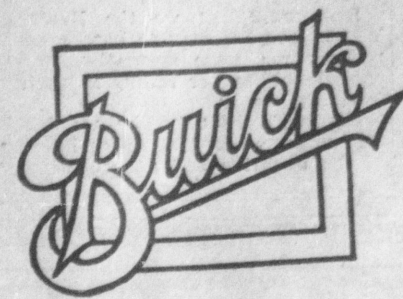

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 18.—A brick business block to cost probably $20,000 is planned for the triangular shaped lot bounded by Ocean avenue, Coast boulevard and Twenty-first place, by the owner, B. K. Stone, of Pasadena.

Kenneth Gordon, of Pasadena, Mr. Stone's architect, was in Newport Beach a few days ago for the purpose of conferring with Building Inspector J. A. Porter. It is reported that actual construction operations will start before the end of the year.

The site is at present occupied by several frame buildings. It is 115x200x131 feet. The property is rated one of the most valuable in the district.

Representing an expenditure of $9000 C. A. Price of Santa Ana, will erect five six-room residences at Collins Isle. The houses will be of frame construction and will be built under the direction of the owner. The permits have already been granted by Inspector Porter.

OBITUARY

At a special called meeting of the Vestry of the Church of the Messiah held on Monday evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, In the Providence of God, Dr. Wilhelmina Waffle has been called to a well deserved rest in Paradise after a life of honor and service, and Whereas, She was during the 44 years of her residence here, a loyal, devout and generous member of the Parish of the Messiah, therefore be it

Resolved, That we the Rector, Wardens and Vestry do hereby express our sincere sympathy and condolence to her family in their loss, and be it

Resolved, That hereby we further express our deep appreciation of the devotion and generosity of

Dr. Waffle to this Parish during her lifetime, and be it Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Vestry of this church, and a copy be sent to the family in token of our regard.

TRUST RESOURCES GREATLY INCREASED

The country's trust company resources for the year ending June 30, 1924, were $16,625,302,000, a gain of $1,544,042,000, or nearly 10 per cent over 1923, as shown by the twenty-second annual edition of "Trust Companies of the United States," just published by the United States Mortgage and Trust company of New York. Deposits for the same period increased from $11,228,883,000 to $13,239,148,000, while the number of companies reporting was 232 against 243.

Comparative figures for the five leading states are as follows:

California—1923, $1,200,838,123; 1924, $1,329,424,334; gain, $118,586,211.
Pennsylvania—1923, $1,322,326,397; 1924, $2,031,112,793; gain, $708,786,396.
Illinois—1923, $1,390,964,012; 1924, $1,578,500,071; gain, $187,536,059.

Ohio—1923, $1,185,256,069; 1924, $1,311,228,723; gain, $125,972,654.
In commenting on the figures for the year John W. Plafie, president of the United States Mortgage and Trust company, says:

"It is significant that trust company resources in the United States have more than doubled in eight years and have practically tripled in twelve years. These tremendous increases, together with the rapidly mounting volume of corporate and personal trust business, give evidence of the deep rooted and commanding position of trust companies, and furnish the evidence of their ever growing usefulness."

WALL ST. JOURNAL
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Without impulse from outside sources, stocks gained fresh highs in today's session. Under the leadership of U. S. Steel, which attained its best level since the post-war inflation boom, the whole market moved vigorously ahead, sweeping prices among both the rails and industrial into new ground for the present bull market.

Liquidation by heavy profit taking has been steadily creating resistance buying power and as a result new groups began to participate in the rise and plenty of public participation was attracted. Hence, bullish demonstrations which went ahead in every part of the market, and the final absorption of a big block of Great Northern preferred, which has been hanging over the market for foreign account, cleared the way for a sharp advance in this issue.

Stocks continued their amazing exhibition of advancing power right up to the close. In the final dealings further sharp price advances in high priced issues like Sears Roebuck, which soared points to a new high for the year at 141, and classified Dry Goods, which held at 137½, against Monday's low of 128½.

The garden group averages at the highest level since 1922, and rails in new high ground since 1922, stock market a buoyant tone in the early dealings.

New York Central at 115 was at its best price in twelve years, while Atchafalaya at 113½ was at its best level of the last decade. Strength in the leading rail and industrial demand for all classes of carrier shares and this section of the market displayed great activity in the first 15 minutes or so, with industrials not far behind.

Search was being made by the sheriff's office today for Charlie E. Taylor, who is accused of passing a fictitious check for $15 to Frank Annin, of this city. The check was passed October 29 according to a complaint sworn to yesterday by Annin.

Ahn Yong and Chester Kim, Chinese vegetable and fruit dealers at Anaheim, failed to appear in the superior court to press their $10,000 damage suit against Sam Hill and H.L.'s motion to dismiss the case was granted by Judge Z. E. West, court records showed today. The case was set for trial yesterday. The Chinese had sued Hill, their landlord, because another store was allowed to operate a fruit stand in the same building with them. This violated their lease, they alleged. Attorney Charles D. Swanner represented Hill.

The proposal to purchase 160 acres from James Irvine as a permanent site for the county fair today had the endorsement of Garden Grove Farm center, a resolution to that effect, addressed to the county supervisors, having been filed today with the board. The proposed site, situated at the foot of Main street, south of Santa Ana, is offered to the county for $57,000, it is said.

FORMER COUNTY PIONEER PASSES
Mrs. B. Uttley of this city, Clem Fox of Costa Mesa and George Fox of Laguna Beach have returned from Modesto, where they were called by the sudden death of J. S. Fox, brother of Mrs. Uttley and father of the two men.

Mr. Fox was a pioneer of Orange county, living for many years in Bell canyon and later returned to the site where the Santa Ana sugar factory now stands. He was a native of Lincolnshire, England, coming to Santa Ana in the early 70s.

Fifteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Fox removed to Modesto, where they prospered and were enjoying life. They had just returned home when the Santa Ana sugar factory was started. He was a native of Lincolnshire, England, coming to Santa Ana in the early 70s.

The funeral was held last Wednesday, Mr. Fox being survived by his widow, six sons and one daughter. All of his children were present with the exception of one son, Frank, who is in southern France. Mr. Fox was 75 years of age and his widow is 75.

TOO MUCH DANCING
VIENNA, Nov. 17.—The dance craze has swept Austria. Worried by the growing popularity of jazz, authorities have taken steps to curb the terpsichorean frolics of Vienna's younger set. In the future, dancing teachers may not hold classes without licenses and all public dance halls in Vienna must be closed by midnight.

The value of perfect diamonds is exceeded by flawless emeralds of equal size and weight, according to experts.

ATTACK VALIDITY OF FIRE DISTRICT

Validity of the Placentia fire protection district was attacked by S. W. McCulloch, prominent Placentia rancher, in a suit on file today in the superior court, McCulloch seeking an injunction to restrain the district and county authorities from continuing with operation of the district.

The court was also asked to cancel the appointment of W. J. Travers, Harry Easton and Samuel Newnes as fire commissioners, and to set aside proceedings fixing the fire limits. The fire commissioner, members of the county board of supervisors and Tax Collector J. C. Lamb were named as defendants in the action, which was brought through Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana.

McCulloch cited the various steps taken to form the district, fix the fire limits and raise the sum of $5000 by a 40 cent tax levy. He charged that only 42 of the signatures of the organization petition were taxpayers and residents of the district, and further declared that no legal notice of the proceedings had been given.

The court was asked to restrain the supervisors from levying more taxes and to restrain the tax collector from such collections. McCulloch also demanded return of that portion of the tax already paid.

FIGHT OVER APPLES
VIENNA, Nov. 18.—Two eighty-year-old men who were bobbing for apples at a party given for employees of a downtown shop became engaged in a fierce fight over the game. One of the elderly men claimed that his opponent was using his hand to snare the apple in the tub. Police were called to stop the quarrel.

Mining engineers contend and mining statistics prove that the richest metal bearing ore bodies of the North American Continent are found in those sections where the mountain ranges are narrowest: viz—MEXICO and Alaska.

In Alaska where the mountain ranges are much narrower than in the United States and Canada the average yield of copper ore, including gold and silver values, is $13.08 per ton.

In Canada where the mountainous area is wider than in Alaska and narrower than in the United States the average yield of copper ore is $6.50 per ton, including gold and silver.

In the United States where the mountain ranges are wider than in other sections the average yield of copper ore is only $5.28 per ton, including the precious metals.

NOW NOTE MEXICO, where the mountain ranges converge into their narrowest point. In this section the average yield of copper ore, including gold and silver, is $42.68 per ton.

THE EL FUERTE PROPERTIES are in the very heart of this highly mineralized section of the great Western mountain ranges, covering an area of approximately 20x30 miles in Southwestern Chihuahua and north-eastern Sinaloa. (Marked with a square on the map.)

ADDITIONS AT TUSTIN URGED BY PRINCIPAL

By MARJORIE EDMUNDS
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL,
Nov. 18.—"Have you heard the news?" exclaims one student excitedly to another. "We're going to have some new buildings. Won't it be just wonderful?"

Such exclamations of joy and curiosity may be heard about the campus at Tustin Union High School as plans are being considered for the additions which will be made here early in the spring.

According to the partially finished details, extensions to the east wing of the school building will be made into a large cafeteria and mechanical drawing room. To the east of the auditorium, a spacious music room will be constructed with every modern music convenience. A Spanish court, which will seat 150 students, for the cafeteria will be built directly south of the new music building.

"Conditions this year are somewhat crowded," stated Mr. Means, principal of the high school. "The domestic science room is now inconveniently used as a cafeteria.
While making this addition it will be more economical to add the other much needed rooms. These additions will be completed by September, and will be beneficial as well as add to the beauty of the school."

"Money for the additions," continued Mr. Means, "will be furnished only by regular funds appropriated for the school. The cost is estimated at very little, which fact means that the buildings will be done without any additional assessment upon taxpayers. Following the same plan of architecture that is now used, the building will be constructed according to Spanish style."

DELINQUENCY LIST DRAWS ATTENTION

By EUBA AZLIN.
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Nov. 18.—Upon entering the halls Wednesday morning, everyone's attention was attracted by the crowded office. Could it possibly be that all the students were on the delinquency list? What was all the commotion about?

After some investigation, it was revealed that the students were receiving their first report cards for the year.

Evidently teachers don't realize what they're missing if they have never had the pleasure of listening to the students comment upon their grades.

It would be impossible to quote all the remarks which were ringing from one end of the hall to the other.

"I don't care, I think I should have got better than that."

"What did you get in general science?"

"That teacher always gives him a good grade."

"Let me see your card and I'll show you mine."

"Goodnight, she sure has the big head because she got a one and I only got a two."

From the sound of some of the remarks, one might judge the results of the cards were very poor; but from the point of view which Mr. Dolg takes, the results weren't bad but almost everyone was just disappointed with their grades. Mr.
Dolg says you shouldn't be satisfied, but always work toward improvement.

It is hoped by the teachers, that the great disappointment registered last Wednesday, will change many of the cards in the next quarter.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS AT TUSTIN MANY

By KATHLEEN AHERN
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL,
Nov. 18.—Classes at Tustin Union High School, have, with one exception, had their semester's social gathering.

On the evening of October 25, the Seniors motored to Dana Point and had a delectable steak bake. November 10th was chosen by the Juniors as the date for their gathering. Plans were also made for a steak bake, at Dana Point, but because of rainy weather, it was held at the high school. The Sophmores, on Oct. 24th, enjoyed a Maslow's masquerade at the high school. A plunge party and wiener bake at Huntington Beach is planned by the Freshmen for the near future.

Each class at Tustin is allowed one social gathering a semester.
They have the privilege of using the school buses for transportation and the building, if desired, may be used for the affair.

PAINTINGS AT GROVE DRAW MUCH INTEREST

By WILMA VINCENT.
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Nov. 18.—A very interesting exhibit of famous paintings was held in the art room of the high school Thursday, November 13.

Even though Mr. Edward T.
Boyle, in charge of the exhibit, was water-bound in Santa Susana and not able to come on the date set, the affair was surely enjoyed when it finally arrived.

Grammar school students came in groups, they selected for their jailway, "Home of the Heron" by Innes, and "At the Bench" by Israel. These they bought with the money they had contributed to the exhibit. The high school students are proud to own "The Blue Boy" by Gainsborough, "The Child Handel," and a lovely landscape called "At Katwijk," for their library.

Most people in this part of the country are especially interested in the "Blue Boy" by Gains-borough as the original is in Mr.
Henry Huntington's exhibit in Pasadena.

Mr. Boyle in his brief talk said he thought the interest in pictures was a source of great pleasure; that though the exhibit was primarily a business proposition, he recognized its educational value.

Costa Mesa News

COSTA MESA, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Housen, living on Fairview avenue, are moving to Los Angeles today. Mr. Ross will move into their house.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Community church met Thursday for an all-day meeting. The women are busy working for a bazaar to be held Dec. 4, at the church.

There will be booths for the various departments such as ice cream, candy, apron and fancy work. The women will serve a cafeteria supper and an interesting program will follow.

Mrs. King, president of the Aid has appointed the following committees: Booths, Mrs. H. J. Clark, Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Kinley; tables, Mrs. Jewett, Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Mellett and Mrs. Adams; menu, Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Ross; reception, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Alderman and Mrs. Horne; ice cream and cake, Mrs. N. O. Mellett, Mrs.
Long and Mrs. Fred Vile; candy,
Mrs. R. K. Eastman, Mrs. Harvey
King and Mrs. R. Vile.

A meeting will be called on Nov.
25 to complete arrangements for the bazaar.

The Highway garage on Newport boulevard, belonging to Mr. Bremer has been leased to Wallace and Hixon of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Bremer expect to leave some time this week for a few months stay in Phoenix, Arizona.

Friday night of last week, the Friday Afternoon club gave a Community entertainment which was one of a series to be given by the club on "Home Life and Community Service." The program was opened with a piano solo by Mrs.
L. Bradford of Newport. S. C.
Hartman of Fullerton, president of the Fullerton school board, was the speaker of the evening. His theme was "Home Life and the Father and the Home." Miss Helen Wishard of the Fullerton faculty, rendered piano selections and three songs that were greatly enjoyed. Dilly Robertson sang three Scotch songs. Miss Norma Lovering and Arthur Harrison, accompanied by Miss Helen Wishard, sang two duets.

Sunday night was Women's Night at the Community church.
Rev. Engle's topic was "Woman's Influence."

All the women's organizations of Costa Mesa were represented, and there was friendly rivalry to see which organization had the largest representation. The Aid society won the prize, having the largest number of ladies present, 47. The P. T. A. came next with 38. Friday Afternoon club 30; Missionary society 19, and the Junior Auxiliary of the Friday Afternoon club, 3.

The prize was a U. S. Carbon framed picture of Millet's "The Gleaners." The pastor's sermon was enjoyed by all.

Rev. and Mrs. Engle enjoyed the visit of Miss Ada Wallin, a former classmate of Morning Side college, Sioux City, Iowa, over the weekend.

Tuesday night, Dr. Crist, district superintendent of the San Diego district, will be present at the first quarterly conference to be held at the church. Plans will be considered for the new church building as well as other regular business.

The Wednesday night cottage prayer meeting will be held at the Ureigh home on Nineteenth street.
Thursday night the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce will have a supper served by the women of the Friday Afternoon club at 6:30 p. m.

PREPARATIONS COMPLETED FOR PRESS ASSOCIATION CONVENTION AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Nov. 18.—The premier event of the Southern California high schools is but three days away and within these three days the little county of Orange will have made itself known and heard throughout the youthful journalistic circles of California's great southland—through the Southern California Press convention to be held at the Anaheim high school Friday, November 21, beginning at 9:00 o'clock and ending at 3:30 o'clock.

The following well-known speakers have consented to give talks on various subjects in order to help the rising young journalists who are anxious to do their part along the newspaper work of today: J.
P. Baumgartner, publisher of the Santa Ana Register; J. P. Van Gruening, head of Journalism, Pasadena high school; Marc Goodnow, dean of Journalism, U. S. C. F. C.
Schindler, Los Angeles Herald high school page; Alma Whitaker, Los Angeles Times; and Jack Jungmeyer, National Enterprise Association, Los Angeles.

The editors of the following Orange county high school papers have also consented to speak on various topics and to show the "newsies" of the surrounding counties what is being done amongst the local schools: Wilhelmina
Laine, Orange Reflector; John Winterbourne, Tustin Broadcaster; Theodore Jesse, Santa Ana Generator; and Edith Doosing, Garden Grove News.

These speakers will stress the facts that today the newspaper is an honest proposition printed for the good of the public and that it is not a sheet of "fakes" and unscrupulousness as many of the critics in the minority believe.

DEATH OF SEN. LODGE

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL,
Nov. 18.—America's senior senator,
Henry Cabot Lodge, has just died.
After lingering between life and death for nearly one hundred hours, he passed on; but not from the minds of true Americans.

He prepared for a literary career and was editor for several well-known magazines, the most important of which was "The North American Review." However, at the call of his people, he gave up this career for one of politics, first serving in the Massachusetts state legislature, then in the House of Representatives and thence in the United States Senate, where he was a member for 31 continuous years, called from it only by his death. He has been chairman of several important national committees among which were the Alaskan Boundary Commission and the Foreign Relations Committee the latter of which he headed at his death.

As a man of letters and politician, Henry Cabot Lodge has an imposing record. He stands as a true type of the conservative, genuine American scholar and statesman.

SELF ADAPTATION

It is more difficult than one thinks to remain static; one either advances or retrogrades.

In order to advance a person must adapt himself to the customs and conditions with which he comes in contact.

Can anyone live successfully who is static? The answer is no.
Even the very animals who inhabit the earth now must have adapted themselves to the conditions which nature saw fit to thrust upon them. Their ancestors were not static, else there would be no animals today.

Our forefathers adapted themselves to the conditions and hardships of settling in this country.
They must have advanced, or we would not have the greatest nation on earth today. Creatures which cannot accustom themselves to the climatic conditions of new and different surroundings cannot thrive. The student who cannot adapt himself cannot achieve success.

FRANK WOOD,
Huntington Beach Union High School.

BAD GRAMMAR

Why do people so often use bad grammar? It surely isn't because they do not know better, as the school facilities of the present time are the best in history. The older people often blame the fact that schools were not so plentiful when they were young, as they are now. That is not a good excuse, because is there anyone that can't read a good book, or a good newspaper?

Even most moving picture titles and sub-titles are written in good English.

Popular songs and poems are often responsible for the worst grammatical errors. The reason for it is that so many of them are written in a short time, and they can hardly be expected to be written well. I am not trying to ruin the reputations of popular songs, because it can't be done. Slang is another enemy of good English. It often originates from foreign words, or from abbreviations, and most of all, from careless English. Sometimes slang is almost a dialect, as in large cities.

Anyone who has bad grammar never injured a person physically, but it has injured many person's chances to become successful in the fullest meaning of the word.
It hurts one's chances in the business world, because who wants to hire a man or woman who cannot speak properly or clearly? Most people can cure themselves of the habit of using bad English by watching their speech and correcting their mistakes. Anyone will admit it is hard not to use bad English when you associate with people who do use it, but it can be done.

The older people say the present generation will forget the original English and speak a language of slang. That is doubtful because when people grow up and have other things to think about, they forget the superfluous things of life, of which slang is one. But remember this: bad grammar is not superfluous and it cannot be forgotten easily.
Don't form the bad grammar habit now, and expect to forget it later, because it will cause you a lot of trouble.

FIGHT IN CHURCH

HULL, England, Nov. 18.—Two ushers in a church here engaged in a fierce fight over possession of a collection box. One of the ushers claimed that the other took the plate from him by force and presented it at the pulpit in order to win higher favor in the eyes of the pastor. Police were called to stop the battle.

FOOTBALL NO LONGER KING OF H. S. SPORTS

By EARL BASHOR

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL,
Nov. 18.—The old year passes and the new one becomes a reality, so does football withdraw and basketball reigns in its stead. Friday, Nov. 14, officially closed football for the majority of schools in Orange county. With the closing of the season come the heart throbs that are seldom felt at the closing of any other sport.

In its training quarters the teams have "jerked" their football jerseys for the last time this season and some for the last time in their school career; that is, members of twenty-five are saying goodbye to football under the colors of the school they love and for which they have played loyally and proudly. They have played the brief honor that is accorded an athlete, and will be given a letter. But the letter, does it not represent something to them, something to be loyal to after school is over? It does, and the men that graduate have it as a symbol of the fine school they represented on the field, whose royal colors they brought unsullied through brave contests.

There may be other attractions after the players don their suits and leave the school, but their interest still will center around the school and the team that they played on. It is up to the future players to make the team what it should be; a clean cut, square playing bunch that will choose defeat rather than a victory won through dirty playing, and keep the graduates proud of "their" high school.

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Nov. 18.—Attention, tennis players! The tennis tournament ends Wednesday, November 19. All games must be played by that time so the eligible players can be announced in the next tennis club meeting. Play off your games so you can get into the club, for there will be only ten boys and ten girls entered.

The ones eligible for the club are: Brooks Stroud, winning 115 games; Robert Chaffee, 85; Ed
Davis, 70; Lawrence Keele, 46;
Cartwright Smith, 42; Earl Parks,
40; Emmett Malott, 37; Ray Munz, 33; Louis Head, 33, and Fred Fells, 29 games.

The ten eligible girls are: Mildred Dunlap, 57; Ruth Hayhurst, 34; Hattie Patterson, 28; Pearl
Black, 27; Ruby Otto, 20; Dorinda
Kenworthy, 15; Bessie Gardner,
12; Evelyn Velzy, 10; Alora
Owen, 1, and Eunice Bringle, 0.

Campus comment registers dissatisfaction over the evident lack of competition among the girls.

San Juan Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Nov.
17.—Miss Thelma McLaugh, who has been staying in Pomona, is now with her family who recently moved here.

Graham Tinning who has been very ill in Glendale returned with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Louis Tinning, Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Winterbourne has returned to her home at Serra, from the Santa Ana Valley hospital with her baby daughter, Mary Theresa.

The San Juan grammar school students in the observance of Good Book week, attended their classes Friday in costume, each representing some book. Mrs. May, principal, was especially charming as "Little Miss Muffet, who sat on a tuffet."

Miss Florence Cook, Miss Gladys Landell and Mrs. Jack Landell visited friends in Long Beach.

Jack Congdon, David Ross and Richard Williams were home from college over the week end.

Miss Marie Errecarte, Steve Maas and Frank Goolin were among those who attended the second annual presentation of "The Arrow Maker" directed by Garret Holme, at Palm Springs, Sunday the ninth.

Miss Martha Belfort, who took the part of "Martita" in the Mission Pageant, recently given here, had a prominent part in the play. Miss Belfort is a resident here.

The Misses Mary McHenry and Hazel Guilbert, and Messrs. Robert Callis and Percy Rosenbaum were the honorees of a delightful little birthday party given by Mrs. O.
Rosenbaum and her son, Percy. After a merry evening playing games dainty refreshments were served in the dining room. Those present were Mary McHenry, Hazel Guilbert, Lillian Arce, Lillian Lobo, Merl and Lella Rosenbaum, John and John Landell, Robert Callis, the host, Percy Rosenbaum, Miss Eleanor Rosenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. O. Rosenbaum.

ROUSING HARBOR
RALLY PLANNED

COSTA MESA, Nov. 18.—Dr. C.
G. Huston, president of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce has issued a call for all the members and friends to attend the membership meeting and open forum scheduled for Thursday evening at the Costa Mesa Women's clubhouse.

The Harbor District orchestra will be on hand to provide delightful music. The latest harbor song will be sung. Printed copies of the song are being made and as the song brings in all parts of Orange county, it is expected to be very popular.

A review of the activities of the fast closing year will be presented and an open forum discussion of "What for 1925" will be entered into.

Sam Meyer, chairman, has an active committee working on ticket sales as follows: Capt. Forbes H.
H. Williamson, J. A. Porter, Byron
Hall, J. P. Greeley, Benj. Funcheon.

With the assuming of activity on the part of the New Harbor Commission the Harbor Chamber of Commerce looks for a very busy season in 1925. The Harbor Chamber is back of the commission in every way in their efforts to get full facts and push progress on harbor development along united and complete lines.

The membership meeting and dinner is open to all who are interested. The dinner will be served promptly at 6:15 p. m. at one dollar per plate. Officials of the Women's club have promised to provide a delightful dinner.

At Chelsea, Mass., a space of 13 acres is devoted to what is said to be the largest junk market in the world.

TRYOUTS FOR DEBATE TEAM HELD AT GROVE

By MARIAN MARSH

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Nov. 18.—The debating tryout was held Nov. 12, with the following results—Affirmative, Edith Doosing, Alma Knight, Negative, Lawrence Allen, Inis Russell; substitutes—John Allen Fitz and Norma Larson.

The judges were Mr. Reroy L.
Dolg, Mrs. J. Orland Smith, and Miss Ellen M. Dodson.

The debaters have a very snappy team this year, and are expected to do very well in the finals. They have very good initiative, and showed a lot of independence. They have worked up the facts together very well. Critics agree that Inis Russell does very good oratorical work, and gets her ideas over in good shape—Alma Knight works

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

WALKER—"Janice Meredith," with Marion Davies.
YOST—Vaudeville (five acts) and "Chalk Marks," with Marguerite Snow.
TEMPLE—"Reckless Romance," with T. Roy Barnes and Wanda Hawley.
WEST END—"Abraham Lincoln," with all-star cast.

SCENES OF REVOLUTION IN "JANICE MEREDITH"

"Janice Meredith," which came to the Walker theater yesterday for four days has so much beauty and romance in it, and so much glory and amazing land that never was charm in it, that even a hardened reviewer is overcome by the sheer magnificence of this picture. No one who, secretly, would like to take a trip to the moon, or who, much more to the point, would like to have the Revolutionary war done over again for his own delectation—the war being just a multi-colored background for a heart-stirring love affair between the most beautiful girl in the world and a man whom she, at least, didn't think was the homeliest of his gender—can afford not to see "Janice Meredith," and Marion Davies, who is the astonishingly beautiful star of it.

There's the Boston Tea Party, the Ride of Paul Revere, the Battle of Lexington, the Battle of Trenton, Washington crossing the Delaware, Benjamin Franklin at the Court of Versailles, and spectacular scene after spectacular scene, until one begins to wonder whether all the spectacular scenes available hadn't been roped and tied, and put into this one film.

"CHALK MARKS" OPENS AT YOST TONIGHT

Tense drama, good-natured comedy and heart-thrilling romance are combined in equal proportions in "Chalk Marks," picture opening tonight at the Yost theater.

The story, an original one by Woods, is presented by an all-star cast that is composed of such favorites as Marguerite Snow, June Elvidge, Ramsay Wallace, Helen Ferguson, Priscilla Bonner, Lydia Knot and Rex Lease.

"Chalk Marks" is laid in three different periods. The story opens in the early eighties, is then transferred to about the 1910 period and reaches its conclusion in the present day. As a result, in addition to the excellent story told, there is a progressive parade of fashions and customs that give the attraction much added interest and no small amount of laughter.

Five acts of high class vaudeville including several Orpheum numbers will be a feature of the Yost program tonight and tomorrow.

"RECKLESS ROMANCE" ON TEMPLE SCREEN

Harry Myers, one of the screen's foremost comedy figures, has a leading role in "Reckless Romance," the screen version of the popular stage success "What's Your Wife Doing?" which will be shown at the Temple theater all this week. Although Myers has been in a multitude of pictures, among them "Brass," "The Beautiful and Damned," and "Daddies," he will always be remembered for his splendid characterization of the Yankee in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

"Reckless Romance" is his first appearance under the Al Christie banner and he puts over some riotously funny tricks as the husband who drags his old grandfather around in a futile effort to obtain divorce evidence. T. Roy Barnes, Wanda Hawley, Sylvia Breamer and Tully Marshall are also in the cast.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN" FILM OF HISTORICAL INTEREST

The Rockett Lincoln Film company, producers of "Abraham Lincoln," now playing at the West End theater, ran across a streak of luck when they sent location scouts back to Illinois to size up the site of the village of New Salem, now imperishably famous as the home of the youth Lincoln, from 1831 to 1837—years fraught with many activities, romance and sadness for the man of destiny.

So many important sequences of the picture-play lie in and around this little pioneer hamlet that the producers were confronted with the necessity of building an entire new town of more than twenty log houses, some of them rather large, but with no plan to guide them in the work. Investigation, however, revealed that the little town had been in process of restoration for two or three years, and that it would be complete in time for the picture people to copy it.

NEWPORT LEGION TO DEBATE HOME

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 18 — Plans for a handsome new clubhouse will be discussed at the meeting of Newport Harbor post American Legion, at The Rendezvous, Balboa Beach, tonight. The gathering will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Newport Harbor post purchased a triangular shaped lot on Tenth street several months ago. It is estimated that the proposed structure will approximate $15,000 in cost.

The organization has approximately 80 members at the present time.

CALIFORNIA HAD HUGE NOV. VOTE

California cast 58.7 per cent of her registered vote at the general election on November 4, as against a national average of 53 per cent. It was revealed with receipt here today of vote figures compiled by the National association of Manufacturers, with headquarters at New York.

The nation-wide campaign to get voters to exercise their franchise brought out a total vote of 30,093,232 as against 26,646,273 in 1920, an increase of 3,446,950 or nearly 13 per cent, according to the association report.

The report shows that while there was an increase of only 2,775,677 potential voters, the polled increase was 3,446,950, or nearly 25 per cent more than the number of increased eligibles.

Luncheon clubs of the country were credited with being responsible for much of the success of the campaign to arouse voters to the importance of casting ballots.

“ DRESS WELL AND SUCCEED ”

One Overcoat Covers Your Figure, But Two Or Three Cover Your Needs

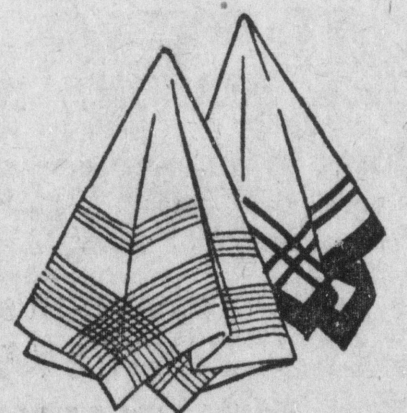

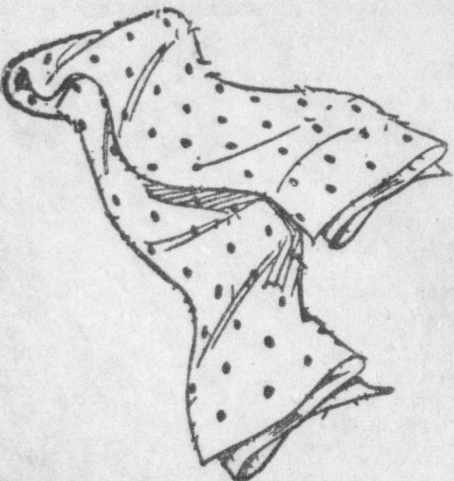

Colored Stiff Collars To Match Shirts Are At The Height Of Their Vogue Among Well-Dressed Men For 1924-1925. Faint Or Bold Stripes And Figures Are Used. Round Cornered Or Deep Pointed Shapes Are Proper, As Most Flatters The Face.

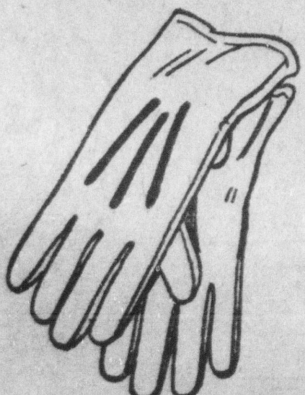

White Collars With Colored Shirts Are As Smart As Ever For 1924-1925. Select The Shape Of Collar That Is Most Becoming To Your Face And Most Comfortable On Your Neck. Both Soft-Bosom Or The New Stiff-Bosom Shirts Are Approved.

TO paraphrase Alexander Pope: "True ease in dress comes from art, not chance, as those move lightest who have learn'd to dance." Therefore, don't put off putting on until the whip of winter flogs you into purchasing your cool-weather wardrobe, and, then, rush in; rush up; rush through and rush out. The brightest chap you know is a looking-glass. Consult him at length and at leisure and give him full time for reflection. One overcoat may cover your figure, but it doesn't cover your needs. Possess three, or; at least, two—one single-breasted and the other double-breasted; or one form-fitting and the other loose-draping; or one dark-colored and the other light-colored. The fascination of dress, with its thrill of self-confidence and its glow of self-approval, lies in "changing off." When a man gets tired of his clothes, he may be sure that his friends got tired of them long ago. Finally, make this your creed—

Mufflers Are Indispensable To The Complete Wardrobe Of 1924-1925 Both As A Decoration To The Neck And As A Protection Against The Rubbing Of The Overcoat Against The Collar. Bright Hued-Mufflers Are Most Fashionable In Polka-Dots, Figures And All-Over Patterns.

Always Carry Two Handkerchiefs—The White One For Use And The Colored One For Breast-Pocket Ornament. Try To Have Your Colored Handkerchief Harmonize With Your Shirt And Cravat. This Is A Spruce And Seemly Effect For 1924-1925.

Don't Carry Your Gloves; Wear Them. This Is Not Optional But Is Obligatory During The Season Of 1924-1925. Nothing As Much As A Glove Lends Fashionable Finish To The Hand. Street Gloves Should Be Roomy; Dress Gloves Should Fit Snugly.

High And Low Shoes, Black Or Tan, Are Equally Correct For 1924-1925. Choose Silk Or Lisle Plain-Shadow Hose With High Shoes. Select Wool Or Silk-And-Wool "Fancy" Hose With Low Shoes. Do Not Wear Patent Leather To Accompany Business Or Lounge Suits.

EVENING SALUTATION

WATCHING OWENS VALLEY

All Southern California is watching with keen interest the drama that is being enacted in the Owens valley with ranchers on one side and the great city of Los Angeles on the other.

It is a drama that has been enacted on a smaller scale many times in California, with water as the cause of contest. Litigation over water rights has often been hastened or hindered when one of the disagreeing parties has taken the law in its own hands.

The ranchers of the Owens valley have taken the law into their own hands deliberately. They want to bring to a head the controversy that has long existed.

Desiring water to meet the needs of a growing city, recognizing the fact that any city's growth is limited by its water supply, Los Angeles went into the Owens valley and by purchase took a large share of the water. Resentment against the big city has been expressed innumerable times in various ways. Without water, the Owens river country can expect no further development. The interior valley's future has been sacrificed to the future of Los Angeles.

Because Los Angeles has been for itself alone in going out after a water supply, and because there is an established principle of law known as that of eminent domain, the greatest good to the greatest number being its foundation stone, all Southern California has been wondering for some years as to what their fate might be should the time come, as it plainly might, when Los Angeles would need all the water in Southern California in order to meet its municipal needs.

In recent months this nervousness concerning the future has been somewhat relieved through the announcement of a project for bringing water from the Colorado river to meet the needs for domestic water in the cities of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. When we look ahead thirty, forty or fifty years, and when we contemplate the probabilities of the growth of Los Angeles, as well as the growth of other cities of Southern California, we can conjecture that the Colorado river will be the agent that will preserve our agriculture and our horticulture. In order to secure ample water supplies, the cities must either take water away from farms and orchards or go to the Colorado.

The fight that the Owens valley is making today—and it looks like a hopeless fight—is a fight that may be made some day in Orange county. Who knows? Our insurance against any such a situation lies in joining with Los Angeles in bringing water from the Colorado river, and by so doing water now in use for irrigation of farming and orchard lands can be preserved indefinitely for that use. Otherwise this water may be sacrificed some day, if not in this generation then in the next, to the needs of the people of the cities.

The election is largely explained by the fact that Senator La Follette was such a hair-raising candidate.

CIRCLING THE EARTH

All records are broken for speed around the world. And it is an air record, too—if radio waves really travel in the air.

The Radio Corporation of America, the other night, sent two letters, a C and an S, racing against time and each other. The C was directed eastward and the S westward. The C flashed around the earth and was received again at No. 66 Broad street, New York, in exactly five seconds. The S lagged a bit and was back in six seconds. The ether, or whatever carries radio vibrations, was not at fault. The difference was caused by the fact that the C was relayed only four times enroute, and the S had to be relayed five times.

At any rate, here is speed to catch the imagination. Ariel, Shakespeare's tricky sprite, could boast of circling the world in 20 minutes. The modern radio sprite—which by an odd similarity of words springs from an "aerial"—does the thing in about the time it takes a man to light a cigaret. And that time will soon be cut down, with a better relay system and more powerful sending equipment.

Some day the same message, sent clear around the world in both directions at once—or more accurately speaking, in all directions at once—will meet itself coming back when half way, and return without relay to the starting point, all in a small fraction of one second.

FUNNIEST EPISODES

An English newspaper has undertaken recently to find out what its readers consider the most comic episode in English literature. As replies come in, it develops that only two authors appear to have any show at all. Shakespeare and Dickens hold all the honors, and the race is likely to be close between Falstaff, Dogberry and Malvolio from the one author and Pickwick, Pecksniff and Mrs. Gamp from the other.

Here we have comic villainy which is eventually put down and comic innocence which always triumphs in the end. Just which event in the life of any of these characters is finally pronounced most comic will be very hard to decide, but after all that is a minor problem.

Persons who have never discovered what fun there is in Shakespeare or who consider Dickens too old-fashioned to read now may be surprised that Englishmen know of nothing more comic than the incidents surrounding the characters named. Still, it is not so strange. The best of our movie comedies and the "funnies" of our daily newspapers derive their universal appeal from these same things—villainy tripped up regularly in the same old ways, and innocence imposed upon but emerging safely at the last.

THE ONCE-OVER HOSPITAL

The public "clinic" or "diagnostic center," as high-brow doctors term it, is the latest thing in health work in large cities. It is a place where anyone can go and be told what, if anything, is wrong with him physically.

A large department of this sort is being established as the result of a generous gift to one of the Kansas City hospitals. It will have equipment and an adequate staff to examine patients for many kinds of ailments ordinarily requiring specialists and costing a great deal of money. Only a small fee is charged for the service. The new clinic is expected to serve not only Kansas City but neighboring cities and states.

It gives no treatment, but simply tells a patient what his condition is. Knowing that, he is free to go to any physician for treatment.

There are great advantages in the method. Patients often suffer from unknown diseases, which affect them in ways having no apparent connection with the basic trouble. With the whole system examined and reported on, there is little chance of mistake. It is merely applying mechanical common sense to the human machine. The custom of looking over that machine regularly and thoroughly is growing; and as it grows, people enjoy better health and live longer.

Boulder Dam Outlook

San Bernardino Sun.

Action is ahead for the Boulder Dam project, the successful launching and completion of which will make Southern California one of the most densely populated regions of the country. Representatives of various cities, including Mayor McNabbs of San Bernardino, are back from an inspection tour of the damsite and the route of the proposed canal that in a span of a few years will bring a river of water into the heart of Southern California. All of the executives of the various municipalities represented are enthusiastic over the proposal that every city in the Southland that desires shall participate in the great project. The first act of the municipalities interested will be to secure legislation that would make possible the formation of a district which could tax or bond itself to construct the great canal. The cities will of course pay according to the amount of water which is apportioned to them. Under existing legislation a district such as is proposed is not possible. Undoubtedly the legislature which meets in January will quickly provide the necessary legal machinery. One of the reasons for the overwhelming vote which President Coolidge received in Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside counties was his direct pledge to support the Boulder Dam project. The President has not been given to the making of idle promises, and he specifically announced that he believed in the great water project proposed for the Colorado River and hoped to see it accomplished as a monument to his administration, which means during the next four years, for there is apparently no thought that he is a candidate in 1928.

Congressman Phil D. Swing is now at Washington working on the Boulder Dam project. The two congressmen of Los Angeles county are pledged to the Boulder Dam and both United States Senators Johnson and Shorridge are exerting their efforts toward the same end. The Republican party platform pledged the entire party to the project.

To Southern California the Boulder Dam and the canal proposed to pierce the mountains to the east of Redlands and swing to the north of San Bernardino are of unequal importance.

Power and water! They are magic words in all of Southern California. Power is needed to turn the millions of wheels of industry and to give employment to the millions of people who want to come to California but cannot because they must earn a livelihood and there is not sufficient work here to clothe and feed those who would come. Water is needed by the cities where these men and women will live and it is needed to irrigate the great farms of Imperial county.

During the next few months it can be confidently expected that the Boulder Dam will be definitely on its way with the financial backing of the nation.

County Assessments

Riverside Press.

Riverside county is fifteenth in the state in the number of registered voters and it is an interesting fact that the county has the same rank in the matter of assessed valuation.

The total valuation of the Southern California counties, as reported by the state controller, is as follows:

Los Angeles	$2,716,223,805
Orange	173,296,561
San Bernardino	108,555,273
San Diego	105,376,789
Santa Barbara	87,005,858
Riverside	61,263,894
Ventura	59,557,982
Imperial	51,314,280

The valuation of San Francisco county is less than half that of Los Angeles, being $989,217,070; Alameda county which is running San Francisco a close race in registered voters shows a valuation of only $374,469,952.

These totals include the railroad valuations, as well as the property assessed for local taxes.

The following counties have a tax rate for the coming year of above 3%:

Santa Clara	$3.90
Nevada	3.40
Trinity	3.50
Sonoma	3.36
San Diego	3.28
Riverside	3.27
San Bernardino	3.25
Stanislaus	3.20
Tulare	3.11

Kern county has the lowest tax rate in the state—1.40—but that is due in large degree to the very high assessed valuation, $188,198,003, higher even than the very rich county of Orange and more than three times as high as Riverside. One explanation for this valuation is the oil wells, but the basis of valuation on real estate must be higher than in most other counties of the state. Los Angeles county has a rate of 1.46, but there again the basis of assessment is high.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

WHY NEW CULTS SOMETIMES SCORE
Someone has asked the question, "Why have so many forms of healing sprung up in the last few years?" Is it because the "regular" physician has not kept pace with medical knowledge?

No! The regular medical man today knows vastly more than his predecessors. The wiping out of the plague, yellow fever, malaria, and the control of typhoid, diabetes, tuberculosis, and so forth, more than answers that question. But the physician of today in his pursuit of the cause of an illness, is unrelenting in his endeavor to locate this cause. The patient is simply the "host," or individual who happens to have the illness.

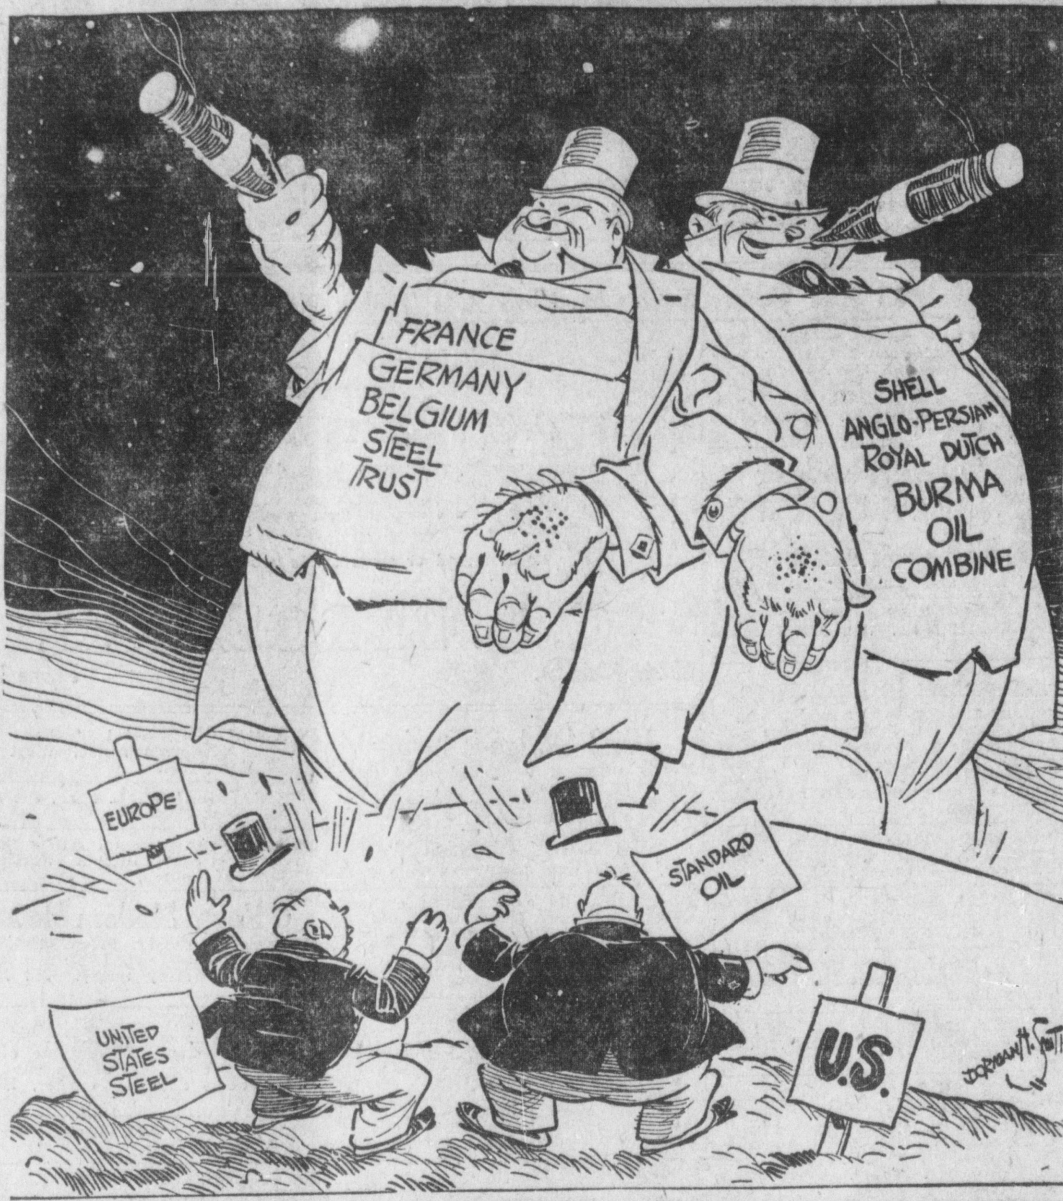

And so, when he treats the illness, he frequently forgets, or does not take into consideration, the patient himself. Now this doesn't suit the average patient, because he or she wants to talk about the illness, more than the physician cares to listen, and unless the physician has an unusually big reputation, the patient is dissatisfied.

This, of course, is not the case always, because one of the most outstanding physicians in America bases his success upon his knowledge of human nature, and not upon his knowledge of medicine. Now, what is his point? That many of the practitioners of the new "systems" or "cults" have cultivated the art of salesmanship, they have acquired a good working knowledge of human nature.

Is this wrong? Not by any means in many cases, because one of their assets is the feeling of optimism they impart to the patient, which goes a long way in the treatment of "nervous" or "chronic" cases. Further, by seeing the patient frequently, the patient is made to feel that he is getting more attention, whereas the regular physician hesitates to make what he terms "unnecessary" calls.

The danger, of course, with the "irregular" or "new cult" physician, is that often he has not had sufficient training to permit him to handle that precious thing, the human body. But this study of the patient, his inclinations and disposition, might be of help to the regular physician in getting quicker results.

IN parts of northern Africa
And southern Europe, too,
The Genet roams the underbrush
Like all the cat-tribe do.
Its spotted body's two feet long,
With tail about the same.
Folks use it as a mouser, for It's not so hard to tame.

Getting Into a Rut

Boston Transcript

One of the piquant remarks made by President Moody of Middlebury in his address to the students at the opening of the college year was that "a rut is only a grave with both ends knocked out." And if it is to be a grave with both ends knocked out, it is fatal to intellectual life and progress, so also are grooves in the educational processes offered by activities in general.

A groove is a mechanical makeshift, useful for certain purposes, but not useful for development. It has the deadening effect of all automatic contrivances, inasmuch as it substitutes automatic direction of energy for more conscious and voluntary direction. It kills progress because it reduces initiative.

Even as a hygienic measure one warns a friend "not to get into ruts." Both physically and mentally the cultivation of flexibility spells a prolongation of youth and of capacity for physical and mental development. Of course, more flexibility alone does not spell progress, but it does furnish one of the conditions precedent to progress. For example, the man whose mind has got into ruts is not readily open to new ideas; and while simply being open to new ideas does not constitute progress, no progress is attainable without the assimilation of new ideas. One must be able to receive them and appraise them in order to reject some or to adopt others. And the proverbial "old fogey" is nothing more or less than he whose mind has irretrievably got into "ruts."

Worth While Verse

FRAIL FLAME

She is too slight for harm;
Any man could lift
And toss her across his arm
Like a scarf-drift.

Her hair is faded gold;
Her eyes are blue.
She loves shades old Scarves-colors, too.

She loves a cloak of flame—
How did such a stir,
Such a dark smoke of flame,
Ever spread from her?

What a dark shadow
For a frail flame!
Like smoke above the meadow
They spread her name.

Note Book

Pop was smoking to himself
And I was laying on the floor Thinking of starting to do my homework, and I sed, Hay pop.

Wat about it? Pop sed,
Is it gambling to pitch election buttons for keeps? I sed,
Its gambling in a minor form,
I suppose, pop sed, I certainly wouldnt encourage you to do it for your own moral or spiritual welfare, he sed.

Well is it rong? I sed,
Well, its not as bad as steeling horses or running away from home, but theres nothing commendable about it, pop sed.

Thats kind of wat I thawt, I sed. Pop not saying anything, and I sed, Me and Puds Simkins pitched election buttons for keeps this afternoon and I won 16 off of him. Do you think I awt to of gave them back to him, pop?
I sed.

It would of bin an action with a lofty spirit behind it and as sutch would of done you credit, pop sed. You didnt return them to him by any chance, did you?
he sed.

No sir, Sed Hunt won them off of me rite afterwords and 20 more besides, I sed.

Thats frequently the way with ill gotten gains, pop sed, and I sed, Well wat I was wondering was, if it would of bin a noble deed for me to give Puds back his 16 then it would be a even nobler one for Sid if he gave me back the hole 36.

Your reasoning is logical if not profound, pop sed, and I sed,
Well pop, you dont you call up Sids father and tell him wat a noble thing it would be for Sid if he did.

Do you're lessins, pop sed, Wich I did.

California's New Museums

Stockton Independent

Next Sunday will witness the dedication in Yosemite Valley of the $50,000 administration building of the first educational museum of its character in this country.

For more than ten years Stephen T. Mather, director of national park service in the department of the interior, has been working toward the culmination of a plan whereby the government would sanction the use of national parks as nuclei of museums devoted to geological and natural science research. The campaign has resulted in the department of the interior working in conjunction with the National Museum Association to place museums of natural history and nature study in a number of the country's national parks.

California should be justly proud that Yosemite National Park has been chosen as the site for the first park museum, whose erection is made possible by the money accruing from the Rockefeller fund for natural research. The museums will lend great additional interest and attraction to Yosemite visitors besides serving as centers of important educational and scientific research work. Even the most casual visitor will find his concept and appreciation of the valley greatly enhanced by the new light natural history connected with Yosemite and its environs. To the student the museum will prove a source of lasting pleasure and benefit.

Were we a devotee of numerology, we might be inclined to think that the number 10 had something magical in relation to making dreams of California museums and art palaces coming true. For on Armistice Day in San Francisco there was dedicated the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, a memorial to the soldiers of California who fell in the World war. Like the museum in Yosemite, this dream came true after ten years of planning and collecting from all parts of the world the exquisite works of art that fill the nineteen galleries of the magnificent palace of art. A. B. Spreckles and his wife, Alma de Bretteville Spreckles, in fancy pictured the palace of art as their gift to the city more than ten years ago and the intervening years have been devoted to turning the beautiful castle in the air into a substantial reality.

Besides the galleries devoted to art and sculpture, there is within the palace a theater seating 400 which is available for lectures, concerts, motion pictures and plays and to complete the whole, a magnificent pipe-organ, one of the largest in the world and capable of being heard for three miles over the city or out at sea, has been installed. The organ is the gift of John D. Spreckles and cost $150,000.

In order to foster and encourage the study of fine arts and the practical application of arts, a corps of teachers will be available to all artists, commercial or otherwise, as well as to city high and elementary schools. A library with reference collections and study rooms will also be at the disposal of those interested in the study of the fine arts. An exact duplication of the famous Palace of the Legion of Honor in Paris, the $2,000,000 structure, just dedicated in San Francisco, rivals in magnificence, in taste, in the thought and time that has been expended upon it, any memorial in the world of today. The art collection is termed one of the greatest procurable from all the art centers of the world and the school to foster the study of fine arts makes the memorial of great practical benefit to students, while the exhibitions, music and various entertainments will provide untold pleasure to countless thousands.

California is fast taking her place as one of the cultural centers of America. The dedication within the week of the magnificent Palace of the Legion of Honor and of the administration building of the first National Park Museum in Yosemite are illustrative of the new westward trend of artistic and cultural pursuits and development.

Animals Trades

A student of the habits of insects, birds and animals once stated that many of them had trades. A. Dagne in "Our Dumb Animals" has ingeniously made out a list of the things they did. He declared that—

Bees are geometers. The cells are constructed so that with the least quantity of material they have the largest spaces and least possible loss of gaps.

The mole is a meteorologist. Eels are electricians. The nautilus is a navigator. He raises and lowers his sails, casts and weighs anchor, and performs other nautical acts. Whole tribes of birds are musicians. The beaver is an architect, builder and wood cutter. The marmot is a civil engineer. He not only builds houses, but constructs aqueducts and drains to keep them dry.

Wasps and hornets manufacture paper, and it is said that the invention of paper, as we have it, is due to the fact that a Mongolian got the idea from watching hornets make their nests out of a pulp which they got from weeds and straw and other vegetation.

Caterpillars make silk threads, and here again the inventors of silk got their first ideas of manufacturing silk fabrics. Ants are architects and military geniuses. They conduct their affairs on the co-operative or socialist plan, and may be also regarded as statesmen.

The squirrel is a ferryman. With a chip or piece of bark for a boat and his tail for a sail he crosses the stream. Dogs, wolves, lions, tigers, panthers are great hunters, and often when they have more meat than they can eat at a meal they will dig a hole in the ground, put the meat in it, then cover it with dirt and leaves.

Much has been written by men trying to explain the difference between animal instinct and human reason. There is a difference in degree certainly, but it is hard to determine at what point instinct stops and reason begins.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Hello, Nancy and Nick," called Jack and Jill when Daddy Gander's magic dust-pan had settled down obligingly before the front porch of the House-That-Jack-Built.

"Hello!" cried the Twins, jumping off the dust-pan and hurrying up the steps where kind Mrs. John, Jack's mother, waited in the doorway.

Daddy Gander tucked his magic dust-pan under his arm (for it had shrunk again into a proper-sized dust-pan) and called out, "I'm going home to get tidied up for the party. What time is it to be, Mrs. John? Mrs. Goose and I don't want to be late."

"The Riddle Lady isn't here yet," answered Mrs. John, "and when she comes I suppose she'll have to rest awhile. I think two o'clock will be about right. It's to be a garden-party, or rather an orchard-party. I can't get all the people into our little house. Everybody will be here."

"They surely will, when there are riddles to guess," laughed Daddy Gander. "Good-bye." No sooner had Daddy gone than the Riddle Lady arrived in her coach and four.

After her came a footman carrying a large box. "It's the prizes," she explained to Mrs. John. "What is a riddle without a prize, I'd like to know."

"De come in and take off your things," urged Mrs. John. "The biscuits and tea are getting cold. And I would like to get through, and the dishes cleared up before the company starts to come."

"Of course! Of course!" said the Riddle Lady hastily. "Here I am keeping everybody waiting."

"Well, as for that," said Mrs.

John setting the chairs around, "I suppose everybody will be keeping you waiting after awhile."

"Well, everything went along very nicely, and after while lunch was over and the dishes cleared up and the guests began to arrive."

When everybody was there—Even Sleepy Head and Slow and Simple Simon: the Riddle Lady gave out her first riddle.

This was it:

"Sometimes I'm made of feathers. Sometimes I'm made of silk. Sometimes I'm black as furnace coal. And sometimes white as milk."

"Sometimes I'm made of paper. That brings the daily news. Sometimes of parchment painted over. With birds and flowers and views."

"Sometimes I'm carried proudly To theaters and balls. But sometimes just to decorate The mantelpiece and walls."

"But mostly Chinese use me, Or mads in far Japan. There is no doubt you know my name, You've often seen a —"

That was the riddle and Nancy guessed it right off. "It's a fan, isn't it?" she said quickly.
